TAKEALL'S 'SCOOTER' MAKING
 NAME ON STRIP SCENE

ARTHUR TAKEALL, a talented young ventriloquist, has been performing as a hobby and entertaining professionally since 1965. A former disc jockey and TV personality, Arthur says his success stems from his intelligent approach and his ability to feel the mood of his audience.

As a voice tosser, Arthur along with his partner, Scooter, have entertained audiences on military bases in Europe and in the United States. Locally,

Arthur and Scooter have been involved in the Maxim Hotel Talent Showcase, the Sahara Hotel Talent Showcase and the Jerry Lewis Telethon and have entertained at various private parties and other social functions.

Scooter, sometimes known as "Little Brother," says that he and Arthur intend to be on the move to bigger and better things like TV and movies very soon.
