

Special Holiday Edition CAESARS MOVES TO SATURDAY FIGHT

LAS VEGAS — Free hot dogs, an early starting time, and exciting boxing matches make for a family outing this Saturday when Caesars Palace presents a special holiday weekend edition of its monthly tournament fights.

A battle of two Bruces plus two tournament matches are on tap for an exciting day at the Sports Pavilion.

The three 10-rounders are promoted by Bob Arum's Top Rank Inc., and put together by Las Vegas matchmaker Mel Greb. The show will be aired live to subscribers fo ESPN, a cable network.

The first bout is scheduled for 5 p.m. Tickets, only $5 general admission or $10 reserved, will be sold at the Duran-Leonard closed circuit telecast Tuesday and daily thereafter at Caesars Palace.

The battle of the Bruces features Las Vegas junior welterweights Bruce Curry and Bruce Finch.

Curry, the former North American Boxing Federation junior welterweight and welterweight champion, has fought current World Boxing Association king Thomas Hearn and former World Boxing Council champ Wilfred Benitez. Last year he was world rated. After the Finch fight Curry hopes to climb back into those ratings and get a title shot. He is managed by Billy Baxter.

Finch, a veteran of more than 30 pro fights according to his manager Keith Galliher, recently defeated tough welterweight Rafael Rodriguez of Minnesota. Rodriguez also lost to Curry in 1977.

In the tournament, western welterweight champion Kenny Croom of Los Angeles battles midwestern champ Jose Santana of Chicago, and junior middleweights Joey Robles of Los Angeles and Chris Linson of Las Vegas meet in the western regional final.

FOSTER GRAND PARENTS

The Economic Opportunity Board of Clark County Foster Grandparents Program is now receiving applications for entrance into the Foster Grandparent Program. Foster Grandparents are placed in childcare agency or homes with special problems. A care is desirable, although not absolutely necessary. Foster Grandparents serve 20 hours per week for which they are paid a stipend of $2.00 per hour, plus $1.85 per day if they furnish their own transportation.

Call 647-1515 for applications blanks and additional information.

SOPHOMORE SONIA LYKES — who didn't start last year with UNLV's Lady Rebel Basketball Team, has been thrust into the spotlight at point guard and has drawn praise because of her leadership qualities. "Sonia is an ideal point guard. She has great vision on the floor, gets the ball up fast and is an excellent passer. She penetrates well and can also shoot from the outside," said the new coach, Sheila Strike.
