McNair is truly wonderful, took hold of both simpler hands (and the mind and body of her children) in a concerned way, and into picture rising tide of villainous acts of conduct.

My visit was made but when first I met and came to know you and in the gladious spirit you took me under your wing.

MICHAEL Henderson exploded a whole tableau of his splendid music here the other night at the Rox. a few nights before the Stevie Wonder concerts opened at the Forum. The audiences especially loved his in person rendition of his hit song, "Wide Receiver." And just to think. Henderson was playing bass violin with the Stevie Wonder group when he was only thirteen. And at fifteen he was fiddling with the Miles Davis unit, and stayed with Miles to the ripe "old" age of 22.

RICHARD Pryor, who is a fun delight with Gene Wilder in "Stir Crazy" with George Stanford Brown and Franklyn Ajaye, is now filming final scenes in Universal's "Family Dreams," the movie he was making, by the hardest, with Cicely Tyson when his terrible accident came. opening in April.

Miss Tyson, meanwhile, is being kept exceedingly busy in windy Chicago filming her role of Marva Collins in the CBS uplift drama "Welcome to Success!" Cicely calls the role the most challenging for her since the Pittman characterization. Marva Collins is, as is now well-known, the black schoolteacher in
