

MR. EDD SAYS

By: Edd Waller

HELLO LAS VEGAS. A heavy weekend ya'll. Lots going on this week. Ran into an old friend, Jimmy Valentine, as I stopped in at People's Choice, and got a shock because it was so pretty. They're remodeling or enlarging but it's decorated to death with mirrors and in red and white, out of site. While there to see "Little Joe and his new band," the wrecking crew caught a very good show. Didn't know Joe was an entertainer also. Little Joe's got Anthony Coleman, from D.C., on drums, Reginald Dawson on tenor sax from New Orleans, LA. Jeffrey Pike on piano, L.A. CA, L.C. Scary on trumpet, Texas, John Sneed on bass from right here in Las Vegas. Eagle Eye Shields came in for a fast minute. Met Mr. Miller, use to write for the old Las Vegas Voice. He introduced "Mr. Edd" to Mr. Joe Preddy, one of the owners, and they bought me beer. I met a very beautiful lady who served me the beer, Queentie Woods. Pretty good nit for the VOICE at the Choice.

Next door at West Side Story, Star Fire was jamming down, sound pretty good, too. But the bass player is the one to watch. He is out-of-site. They had a pretty good house crowd, almost full about 2:30 a.m., too. Johnny Adams was the featured vocalist of the evening.

LA PA MA FAMILY ARCADE, a new electronic recreation center, has just opened. Understand that they have over 30 electronic and video games, plus security guards, supervision for those who have to drop their little ones off while taking care G.G. Business. Right on. The Arcade employs 5 people, and is another of the many good projects owned and operated by the E.O.B. Bob Palm, Lenord Ladd and Leonard Mason are in charge of the Center. Wanna see you over here, too, Bob Palm, Mr. Edd said.

What can I tell ya? The I.B.O.P. Elks of the World, Baby, they are doing it every week. They had a western dance last Saturday nite, and the cowboys and cowgirls were really out. The PIG man, no. 1, Lee Wesley (that's what he said) made a good on a PIG. Hat, boots, shirt, jeans, and pig Iron on his hop. Could have won, but got beat by two heavy weights who out-dressed and out gunned Ole Lee. Gr. Mgr. General Joshua W. Isham, Sr., of the Lodge had a pretty, pretty brow handled Colt 45. I think, Don't make me lie, but it was bad. The ladies to ya'll. Trudy had on a blue satin shirt with a white neckerchief, (tight) out of sight, jeans, had cocked (to the left) talking plenty...

Earlier during the day the Lodge sponsored a day for the kids, and had a drill team contest. One little bittie one was out of sight. The group was, "The West A Nettes." Some of or one of the teams will be going to Stockton, California, in June for meeting. Letcha know more later. That's about it, other than I had such a good time starting my teeth to hurting. Messed me up for two days. Felt like Bro. Ross looked with that Mamie youkon hat on. Don't forget Bro. Rubin and remember KCEP Radio. Later.

The Death of a Child Affects Us All

This theme is been used at the Madison Sixth Grade Center, hopeful it will remain until the injustices in Atlanta, is brought to justice.

The Human Relations Club members, thought perhaps if we really care about what is happening in Atlanta, why not express our concern by doing something constructive? A Green Ribbon Rally was organized. The president of the Human Relations Club, (Hector Navarro) stated there were no funds for such a project. A few days of preparation, a bake sale was on. More than enough funds were raised to purchase materials to make green bows. It was such a delightful week to see all faculty members and students wearing tiny green bows.

A bulletin board hung graceful in the Multi-purpose Room, displaying news paper clippings, pictures and names of the victims. The news media gave coverage. A special thanks to Channel 13 and the trophy of Las Vegas, who donated a plaque, with the inscription "The Death Of A Child Affects All Of Us". This plaque will have a list of all the children's name engraved on it, an as a memorial will hang in the office of Madison Sixth Grade Center, forever.
