DIANA ROSS HIT AT CAESARS PALACE

Diana Ross brings her unique brand of stage perfection to Caesars Palace for two weeks, through May 27.

The Diana Ross legend grows, her cabaret production chronicles the Ross career.

She performs along with a film montage that is breathtaking in its part-real part-fantasy illusion.

Her choice of material includes "Lady Sings The Blues," "Reach Out

And Touch" and "Touch Me In The Morning."

She bridges her 70s hits with renditions of her more recent string of solid gold record smashes, including "Upside Down," "It's My House," "It's My Emotions and Earth, Wind and Fire.

Wallace also makes frequent appearances at New York's Comic Strip and Catch a Rising Star, and in L.A.'s famed Comedy Store and Improvisation.

Turn" and "I'm Coming Out."

George Wallace, currently appearing with Diana Ross is one of America's hottest new comedians.

The fast pace of George's success is due in part to the immediate and creative rapport he has with his audiences from coast to coast, as proven by his many concert appearances with recording stars such as Natalie Cole, the Wallace was chosen winner of the New York Big Laff Off, naming him the funniest man in New York City. That show is currently being aired on Cable TV.

He's written for and appeared on The Redd Foxx Show, with guest shots on Good Times, Good Morning America, Mike Douglas, and The Tonight Show with his idol Johnny Carson.

Cher follows Diana Ross May 28.
