HOLLYWOOD

TIM Reid, the somewhat versatile actor who plays the cool deejay, Venus Flytrap, on CBS-TV's "WKRP In Cincinnati," has added the title of author to his list of credits, it says here. Reid has brought out his new book of poetry, prose and photos titled "As I Feel It."

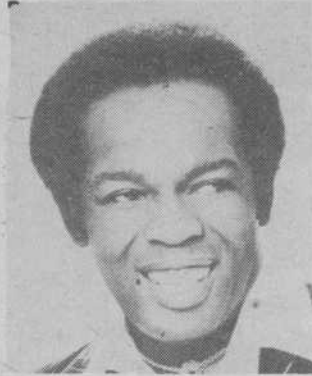

The other evening they held a press preview party for Reid and his book at the Improvisation, coupled with a musical presentation of a Touch of Class. It should be said here that Reid's book is a thing of beauty. One reading it could say, of Reid, "I didn't know he had it in him," but that could be said of anyone.

One bit of prose in "As I Feel It" is entitled, "Who Am I, really?" ... "Sometimes I don't know if I'm the dream or the dreamer/If I'm the scheme or the schemer/There are times when I express myself in ways that I am not .. then there are times when my soul will reveal a virtue that my mind has long forgot/I've felt the presence of a greater something/And yet ...I was alone/I am a reflection of many images, none of which is truly my own."

ARTHUR Prysock moved into the Parisian Room here for a singing stand, along with his "little" brother Red Prysock, the tenor and joke man. Golf pro Charley Sifford was in for Prysock's opener, along with countless women audience members who lingered on every note of the veteran balladman's songs. Manager Little Arthur Mathews told us Prysock and Joe Williams bring the crowds in every time they're on the show bill. Comic Reynaldo Rey holds forth nightly with the acid humor. And don't believe those quips he makes about "my Cadillac." Rey, who is also a television writer, drives a new Lincoln Continental.

SIDNEY Barnes is now A&R for George Clinton's new record label, Uncle Jam Records here ... Lou Rawls' regular Oriental date, a real charmer, but a lady who baffles photographer Willie Dooley, who says the lassie "runs everytime she sees me and my camera coming." Dooley says he'll be looking for her at the Grammy show.

MARVIN Gaye, who has lost many pounds and much spirit of late, still making London, England his temporary abode. His new record album is enjoying brisk sales in the U.S., in the meantime, Gaye might like to know that the snappy little 1974 Mercedes coupe he once owned was sold at an office furniture auction here last Sunday for $15,900, with 44,000 miles on the speedometer. The little blonde who bought it is a furniture manufacturer in the San Gabriel Valley. Some local deejays were on hand to bid, and to sadly watch the car go.

GETTING tiptop acclaim is the new PBS TV series, "With Ossie & Ruby," starring Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee, and which kicked off with Della Reeve singing with the Dallas Concord baptist church choir.

THE KKK segment of the popular TV show, "The Jeffersons," drew all kinds of attention. Coming through like an artistic ace in the KKK episode was, as usual, Marla Gibbs, who plays Florence the maid on the show. But all the rest of the cast was good, too. The network is still receiving much mail about that particular program. There is no way any intelligent and knowledgeable person can say "The Jefferson" is not a show that's in tune with the times. It blasted the current practice of white developers gobbling up land of the darker, poor people in Hawaii. And now the KKK bit. And it treats the subjects with the direct, natural manner Lorraine Hansberry used so effectively in her "Raisin In The Sun." People don't "talk proper" when they get mad.
