publisher, the New York Amsterdam News, now heads this association. Judged on the basis of the meeting here, he has embraced his task and added responsibility with productive enthusiasm and imagination to make the flavor of change most tasteful. His seems to be a broad view that's focused on both the long and short term planning necessary for immediate and continuous growth of an organization which has been headed by several strong dedicated persons in the past. Each of them labored with the belief that, as it was orchestrated before them, "That the worse can be made worthwhile, and bad can be made better. All which needs to be done is to encourage human deeds to fulfill human needs." Write On NNPA.

NEWS NOTES: — Richard Pryor says, "I'm a happy man. A day doesn't go by that I don't say, 'Thank God.'" And why shouldn't he? He's lined up for scads of film chores and expects high praise for his performance in the up-scheduled flick fare "Some Kind Of Hero."

Consumer Seminar

Do you know what your consumer rights and responsibilities are? Have you been a victim of bait and switch? Are you an aware consumer?

Informing consumers of their rights and responsibilities is an important concern of the Nevada State Consumer Affairs Division and raising consumer consciousness is an important goal.

To help meet that goal, The Community Service Division of Clark County Community College and the State Consumer Affairs Division will co-sponsor a Consumer Assertiveness Seminar at the college on August 18 and 19 and 7-10 p.m.

The seminar will cover information on how you, the consumer, can protect yourself, how to complain assertively and effectively, and what it means to be a responsible consumer.

For more information call the college at 643-6060 ext 268.

PRIVATE LINES: — Allegedly that pretty The $9-million opus will preem to benefit the Sherman Oaks Burn Center where his life was saved...Some members of the "Write Hand Fraternity" are afraid that Wallace Terry's book on the lives and times of some 60 Afro-American journalists may focus too heavily on those of the white, rather than black, press. Lord Melody, owe him an everlasting debt for taking their indigenous music to many far corners of the world.

There's also something else about Belafonte that has not changed, no matter how successful his years in showbusiness have been. That's his strong, seething zeal for elevation, utilization and recognition of black performing talent. Like Lena Horne, he's always been outspoken in his sentiments about and against racism.
