CONSUMER AFFAIRS PROBLEMS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: My landlord has just increased my rent. I went to pay my rent for the month of November and my landlord told me that there is an increase starting this month and asked me for an additional $25.00. Since I did not have an advance notice, I refused to do so and now he is threatening me with eviction. I think he is wrong. Can he do this?

ANSWER: You win this one. The landlord may not increase the rent payable by a tenant unless he serves the tenant with a written notice 30 days, or, in the case of any periodic tenancy of less than 1 month, 7 days in advance of the first rental payment to be increased, advising him of the increase.
