CLARK COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT ACTIVITIES

MaChelle Gibson, a pretty, perky 17-year-old transplant from Detroit currently attending Las Vegas High School, has been named a Semifinalist in the prestigious National Achievement Scholarship Program for black students.

MaChelle attended Cass Technical High School in Detroit. Although Cass Technical is classified as a public school, it has strict admittance requirements and courses are geared toward the exceptional student, but MaChelle had little difficulty maintaining a high grade point average through three years of college preparatory classes.

On November 7, the honor student took the final battery of tests which will determine the National Achievement Scholarship Program finalists and is waiting anxiously for the results.

Honor Choir-Orchestra Concert Held At Chaparral

The Clark County School District hosted the annual Honor Choir and Orchestra Concert on Nov. 24 at 8 p.m. in the Chaparral High School Little Theater.

The program, featuring the talents of 167 ninth through twelfth graders, consisted of such favorites as "O Vos Omnes," "Ezekiel Saw De Wheel," "Gloria," and "Onward Ye People."

Students who earned a place in the program will be eligible to audition for the All State competition scheduled in April.

Guest choir conductor was Dr. Thomas Somerville, Director of Choral Studies Occidental College in California.

CLARK COUNTY COMMUNITY COLLEGE

ENVIRONMENT & PSYCHOLOGY

Are sex differences the product of biology or culture? Can living in a city disrupt your emotional health? Will genetic engineering solve society's problems?

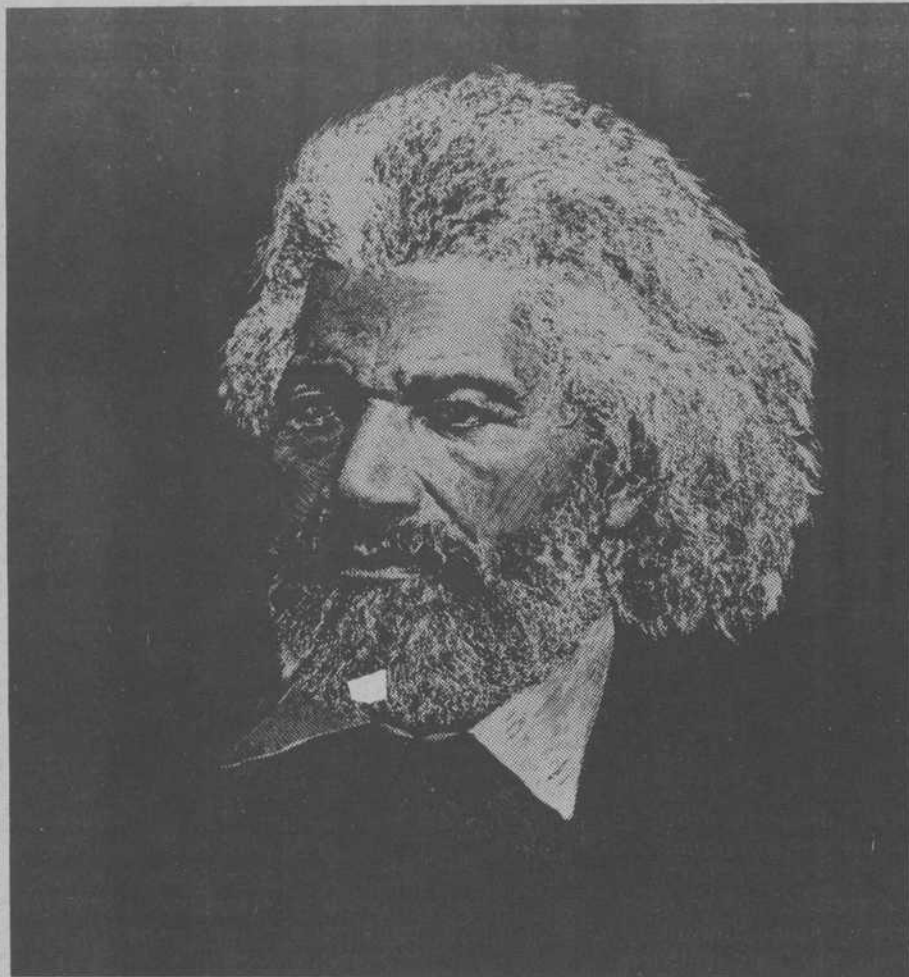

These and other questions relating to contemporary lifestyles will be the subject of a new course IMPACT OF THE ENVIRONMENT ON HUMAN BEHAVIOR to be offered in the Spring Term at Clark County Community College.

The six-credit course will be interdisciplinary, allowing the student to satisfy both science and social science requirements. The course will be university transferable.

The student actually registers for two courses. These are Environment 101, with instructor Roberta Williams, and Psychology 261, with instructor Debbie Hecht.

Call 643-0830 for further details.
