

Fashions

"A FAREWELL TO ARMS"

The VEST Story

Cotton canvas is the medium, smooth quilted shoulders and back is the message.

A nylon flight jacket bids farewell to arms, resulting in an ideal transitional vest.

A sturdy cotton interpretation features snap closures and the industrial panache of a reflector-tape panel.

EBONY'S GALLERY OF FAME

CARTER GOODWIN WOODSON (b. New Canton, Virginia, December 19, 1875; d. April 3, 1950), distinguished Negro history specialist. Author of 16 books about the Negro, initiated the annual February observation of Negro History Week, founder of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History and founder and editor of the Journal of Negro History and The Negro History Bulletin.

Johnson Publishing Co., Chicago

BROWN

from page 3

Alabama, Washington, D.C., and Newark and as Vice President and Assistant General Manager for KVOV Radio Station in Las Vegas. He also served as a correspondent for the Pittsburgh Courier and as an Associate Editor for the Tuskegee

Herald. He has lived in Nevada since 1974, and founded The Sentinel in 1980.

He currently serves as board member for the American Red Cross in Las Vegas and is a former Director of the West Las Vegas Civic Association. He is the Past President of Las Vegas Optimist Club, and Past Lieutenant Governor of the Optimist Clubs in the Southern Nevada Zone. He is the Founder and Past President of Las Vegas United React, a civic radio emergency unit. He also served as President of the National Wild Horse Association, and as Secretary-Treasurer of the National Mustang Association.

Brown is married with five children.

WEST

from page 3

lected. The location of the center we feel is excellent for both local and national retailers due to the built-in market of approximately 10,000 residents in the immediate area. This market has virtually gone untapped until now".

There will be a number of new services locating in the center, plans include a proposed Federal Crime Prevention police communications station, full-service laundromat, office complexes, upholstery center and more.

Existing services in the center include a market, beauty salon, insurance company and community services.

Technical legal services is provided by Steve Scow of the Morse-Foley Law Firm of Las Vegas. Edmond said, "Mayor Bill Braire, The City Commissioners, Governor Bob List, and many other public officials have shared our enthusiasm in creating a new route for increased business activity in this area. For this, The Nucleus Associates are deeply pleased."

For additional information regarding this project or leasing information call 646-1880.