

A Kid's Opinion

By Che' Jones

In Laguna Hills, Calif., a 3-ton elephant trampled a game warden to death, when the elephant broke loose and stepped on his head.

This was the first attack involving elephants. In October a Siberian tiger mauled a 2-year old boy, who is still recovering.

The elephant wasn't tamed, of course, or it wouldn't have killed a man. After this, I think these animals should be in their cages at all times; they should be checked every four hours to see if the animals are there and their cages are locked.

I think this wild life thing is very dangerous; you could be attacked easily. Imagine it's a hot day and you roll down your window; any kind of animal could get you and tip over your car. Really, I think it's dangerous.

These people who run these parks should be fined $3 - 4,000. They say human lives are important to them, but maybe money means more.

have this important quality because people are watching you that you don't even know and realize are."

Arberry also suggested that we as a people need to broaden our aspect about everything, including political parties. "We should take a closer look at them both (Democrats and Republicans), analyze them and make our choice as to which one we'll be supportive of by how they support us. In the past, we've been too narrow-minded in our thinking. We've just got to broaden our perspectives along those lines."

Morris Arberry...Role model, civic and political leader...A past, present and future voice in Las Vegas as a whole. Though he didn't commit himself to the idea, it seems that a message should be relayed to the present political leadership in our community, city, state and country as well, that message being that a more youthful, inspired, conscientious, aggressive, intelligent and compassionate group of leaders is on the horizon, really committed to making some positive things happen, and Morris Arberry just may be one of the mold of characters in that descriptive message that he didn't specifically but still somehow stated.

Chamber Prepares Pending Jesse Jackson Las Vegas Visit

By George A. Burns

The Nevada Black Chamber of Commerce, with the assistance of the State Democratic Party and Governor Richard Bryan has revealed that it is working on final arrangements that will and Stadium.

While a definite confirmation of the visit was not concretely given, it's all but certain that Jackson will visit our city on either September 9th or 10th.

Jesse Jackson

bring Operation Push's president, national leader and possible Democratic candidate of that party's nomination, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, to Las Vegas in early September.

The Chamber plans to sponsor that well planned and organized event as part of its first anniversary fund raiser which will probably be held at the Cashman Field Baseball Complex

Jackson, who has all but decided to join the already crowd of seven for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1984, will be the first Black to ever seriously challenge for it. It has been speculated for some time that the charismatic leader will announce for the nomination somewhere around Aug. 30th. That being the case, the Nevada Black Chamber could very well be instrumental in bringing the Democratic Nominee for President to Las Vegas.

Chamber President Sarann Knight-Preddy stated that as future progress is being made in those efforts, more information regarding the pending visit will be disclosed.

A major condition for helping youth get jobs will be active participation in the workshop sessions.

Greg Morris

Local businessmen have already expressed a keen interest in hiring youth who have gone through the Program. Support for the Program has been unilateral throughout Southern Nevada. Endorsees include: Sheriff John Moran, Black Firefighter's Association, Ministerial Alliance, NAACP, and Nevada Black Policemen's Association.

A trust fund has been set up to handle donations to aid the project. Contributions can be mailed to First Interstate Bank, 1911 Civic Center Drive, North Las Vegas, Nevada.

Noted screen actor, Greg Morris, who resides in Las Vegas, recently announced his support for the Masonic youth program after learning about what it entailed. Later Morris became a full-fledged member of the Masonic Lodge which sponsors the Program.

Youth, twelve to eighteen years of age who wish to join the Program should call 646-4848 weekdays. Operating hours for the Program are 11:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.
