MERRY CHRISTMAS

Co., Artistry In Hair, K-Cards, R. T. Roofing Co., Black Hair, Ebony & Ivory Beauty, A Touch of Elegance, Charles Artist Works, The New Brown Derby, Hanks Place, and There has to be others that the brain of ME cannot beam in on at the spur of the moment (ME is getting older by the minute.)

State-Plate-O-Tha' Week: Jo Vet — a sleek wine colored vet that is clean as the board of health parked in the driveway and ME wonders whos iz it or whos it iz? Huh!...

What will U be doing next year around this time? Let's hope everything will be coming up roses for each and everyone who works to be a part of the living who really be learning to live in peace and harmony... Not faking-shilling and shucking and jiving each other as so many be doing one the other...

Will we see a "casus belli" take place before this year comes to an end or not? Who will be the one to make it happen _____ or _____?

Remember to Remember: The Poets workshop meets Dec. 28th, 7 p.m. in The Las Vegas Library, 1726 E. Charleston Blvd. (The Charleston Plaza Mall). —monamodi/83

"IT'S CHRISTMAS AGAIN" CONCERT

Spend a delightful afternoon in celebration of "It's Christmas Again" when celebrated performer/teacher David London presents a holiday concert and carol sing-along at the Flamingo Library, 1401 E. Flamingo Road, on Friday, Dec. 23 at 3 p.m.

Take time from the hustle and bustle of Christmas shopping to relax in the warm and inviting atmosphere of the library as London's voice and piano students present a program featuring the premiere of the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," antiphonally sung as a double tenor duet, Bach's "Tocatta & Fugue in D Minor" and "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" as well as "Birthday of a King" and the "Cantique de Noel." The featured soloists, along with tenor London, are "Nicolino," renowned State Street Restaurant tenor troubador, and baritone Robert Baughman, Boulder City's singing policeman. The soloists will be accompanied by pianist Dennis O'Sullivan.

The highlight of the afternoon concert will be the debut of London's original, pop holiday song, "It's Christmas Again."

The second part of the program will include an audience sing-along of both popular and secular holiday music.

This yule-time concert, sponsored by the Clark County Library District, is free to the public.

SAHARA STARS — Recording stars Peaches & Herb are re-united in the Casbar Theatre lounge of the Sahara Hotel & Casino starring in two big shows nightly, Tuesday through Sunday, alternating with dynamic songstress Denise Clemente, and the zany Cook E. Jarr & The Krums. Three top acts nightly in the Casbar make the Sahara the place to be for top quality, bargain entertainment during the holiday season.
