NLV Recreation department sees new banner summer

NORTH LAS VEGAS - The City's Library, Parks and Recreation Department anticipates a banner summer, acting director Eric Dabney says, with the seasonal opening of the popular hydrotube always the most popular.

In the wings, awaiting approval, is the possible addition of some new attractions.

Dabney said a wave making pool may be added in the area of the hydrotube. It would include water rides and other family-type entertainment.

"We've looked at a wave making pool operation in San Dimas, Calif., and they (San Dimas officials) claim it is really popular," Dabney said. "We like the idea."

Dabney said the pool would not be as large as the one planned by Lee Adams, 29, in connection with the Sept. 25, 1982, killing at the Sky Club Bar, 4015 N. Nellis Blvd. Adams, also known as "Speed," is a 5-foot-8, 160 pound black man with black hair and brown eyes.

Summa Corp. on the Strip.

The hydrotube is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily with rides priced at $3 for a ticket book of 10.

The three area swimming pools are all being readied for the summer, Tony Taylor of the Recreation Department said.

Hartke Pool will open June 11 with Walker and Petitti pools the day later.

Hours will be noon to 5 p.m. for open swimming with adults set at 5 p.m. to 6 p.m.

All pools are closed on Sunday, Taylor said.

Joni Wines To Run For Senate 6 Seat

Joni Wines has filed for the State Senate District 6 seat.

Wines, a Nevada resident for 33 years, has been a Republican candidate twice before. She won her first election in 1978 as the first female sheriff of Nye County, and gained worldwide recognition for her fight against political and governmental corruption.

Wines lost her bid for Congress in 1982, although she won Clark County.

"I am convinced there are many Nevadans out there to whom honor and decency, honesty and integrity, fairness and consideration, are still important," Wines said. "I want to help those people. They have a right to expect their elected officials to truly represent them and to remember who elected them to office."

"My track record proves that I do just that," she said. "And I am effective. If the people want to put me in office again, I will continue to fight for them."

Plea Bargain Offered In Stabbing Case

A plea bargain has been offered to a 15-year-old North Las Vegas boy accused of attempted murder in the stabbing of his girlfriend and murder in the death of her unborn baby.

The prosecution has agreed to drop the murder charge against Sean Thomas if he agrees to plead guilty to attempted murder, which carries a maximum prison term of 20 years, District Attorney Ron Bloxham said Tuesday.

"It's a fair deal for all concerned," he said.

Thomas, who is in the custody of his grandfather, is charged with attempted murder in the Feb. 3 stabbing of his girlfriend, Victoria Hudson, 20. The prosecution also charged him with the murder of the woman's unborn child, who died as a result of the stabbing.

The stabbing occurred in Hudson's bedroom at her mother's home, 2008 Lawry Ave.

Because of the pending plea bargain, Thomas has waived his preliminary hearing before James Kelly, North Las Vegas justice of the peace.

The teenager, represented by attorneys Charles Water and Davis Phillips, was ordered to appear in District Court for arraignment on June 12.

The prosecution was prepared to argue that the unborn child died as a direct result of being stabbed, rather than from an injury suffered by the mother, Bloxham said.

Bloxham said Nevada law provides that the killing of a fetus is manslaughter. But Thomas could not be certified to stand as an adult on a manslaughter charge because of his age, he said.

Gov. Bryan Proclaimed May 17 Brown v. Board Of Education Day In State

The Las Vegas Sentinel-Voice received a news release from Governor Richard Bryan's office on Monday, June 4, indicating that he had proclaimed May 17, 1984, as a day for all citizens to rededicate themselves to the ideals and principles of equality and justice in honor of the 30th anniversary of Brown v. Board of Education. The proclamation read as follows:

"WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court in its historic 1954 decision in Brown v. Board of Education held that segregation in public education is unconstitutional; and

"WHEREAS, it served as the catalyst for the shifting of judicial sanctions from that of segregation to desegregation and the elimination of legal barriers to equal opportunities; and

"WHEREAS, Brown formed the basis for enactment of the Civil Rights Acts of 1964, 1965 and 1968, thereby providing greater assurance of equal opportunity in employment, equal access to public accommodations, housing and desegregated education; and

"WHEREAS, there continues to be opposition to desegregation at many levels of life and the momentum of the equality of opportunity in all aspects of public life is decelerated; and

"WHEREAS, despite the removal of the more overt legal barriers, blacks are still faced with resistance to meaningful implementation of these civil rights laws; and

"WHEREAS, this is the 30th anniversary of Brown v. Board of Education;

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD H. BRYAN, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, do hereby proclaim May 17, 1984, in Nevada, as a day for all citizens to rededicate themselves to the ideals and principles of equality and justice, particularly at a time when this nation should be attempting to transfer the noble pronouncement of Brown into realities.

I further call upon all elected officials and citizens to exert active individual leadership in making equality a reality for all Americans."
