

Hundreds of civil rights leaders—past and present—convened in Washington, D.C. this month to commemorate the 20th anniversary of an historic event—the signing of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The bipartisan celebration took place at the 34th Annual Meeting of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights (LCCR) at the Capital Hilton Hotel. During the two-day meeting, the Hubert H. Humphrey Civil Rights Award was presented to Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., right, veteran civil rights campaigner and LCCR Counsel, for "selfless and devoted service in the cause of equality." Prior to the Humphrey Awards Dinner, at a reception co-sponsored by Philip Morris Incorporated and Philip Morris U.S.A., Rauh was joined by, left to right: LCCR Chairperson Benjamin L. Hooks, who is also Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); Donald S. Harris, Director, Public Affairs Programs, Philip Morris Incorporated; and Allene S. Roberts, Public Affairs Specialist, Philip Morris U.S.A. As the oldest, most broadly based civil rights coalition in the country, LCCR represents over 170 major national organizations comprised of Blacks, Hispanics and Asian-Americans, labor, the handicapped, major religious groups, women, the aged, and minority businesses and professions.

Mother Alberta Gibson is a sincere church mother

This week, Mid City Furniture, 501 N. Main, is honoring Mother Alberta Gibson as the CHURCH MOTHER of the week. She is the church mother of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, 1189 Hassell Ave., where Rev. J.L. Kemp is 1 pastor.

Mother Gipson, a dedicated church worker, is very modest and does not like to talk about her accomplishments. She is not one to seek publicity.

Born in Marvell, Arkansas, she moved to Las Vegas about 20 years ago. While ill at the present time, she goes to church every opportunity.

She has taught the Bible classes, Sunday School and has worked very hard with the missionary clubs.

As for her favorite item to cook or bake, she said that to make potato pies rates as her favorite.

We wish for Mother Gibson a speedy recovery.

Mid City Furniture forwards to the weekly church mother honorees a lovely gift which is delivered to the church pastor. He, in turn, presents the gift to the honoree during the Sunday services. THIS WEEK WE SALUTE MOTHER ALBERTA GIBSON.

A picture of this week's honoree was not made available.
