

100 ECHO

COBRA HELICOPTER PILOT

Go from high school to flight school. "100 Echo" is Army shorthand for an Army-trained helicopter pilot. Our flight training will test everything you've got. If you qualify and make it through, you'll not only earn an aviator's silver wings, but warrant officer status, too. Plus you'll be serving your country in the way that best suits your talents.

So if it's not 100 Echo, it might be 100 Alpha*.
