Sadie Moss, who sang "The Evergreen."

A breakfast reception was held at the Holiday Inn Hotel on Paradise Island in Nassau, at which time the bride and groom received many beautiful gifts.

The entire Goynes family, the bride, and her mother returned to Las Vegas from Nassau to attend another fabulous wedding reception for the lovely couple on Saturday, Nov. 17.

An estimated crowd of over 300 friends of the Goynes family from Las Vegas and Los Angeles greeted the bride and groom in an elaborate setting at the Bells and Bows reception center on West Charleston Blvd. The color scheme was peach and white.

The bride was beautiful and resplendent in her off-white crepe-back satin gown trimmed in lace and bedecked with diamonds and pearls. Her matching satin shoes were also covered with diamonds, pearls and lace.

The groom stood tall and majestic in his grey and black English cut-away tuxedo suit. They were the recipients of an abundance of useful gifts. Throughout the reception, video tapes highlighting the wedding in Nassau were shown.

The Las Vegas reception was catered by the fabulous Eunice Lowe who out-did herself as she provided exquisite toothsome delicacies which were finger-licking good. A variety of beverages to suite the taste of the imbibers was on hand and flowed freely.

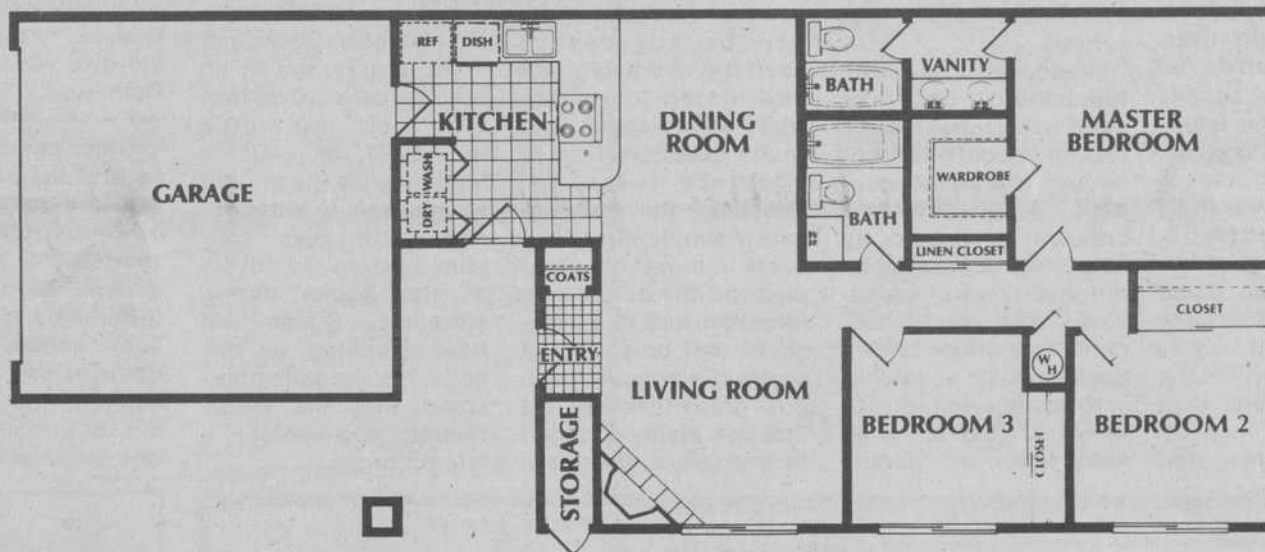

Dancing led by the bride and groom brought the charming guests to their feet — a beautiful way to end an enjoyable evening.
