

JACKSON STREET AND ME . . . By Rudi Jackson

Let us travel to the city of Richmond, Virginia to enjoy the supra-plaudit of a fine spun 'modelle d'extraordinary' that way touring with The Austin-Sutton Productions Designer Show near the close of 1984. The lovely Lois Johnson— who has a fabulous wardrobe and is daily adding to her stylus collection by selecting designers with a flair for creating modish clothing for her costly taste . . .

We understand that she fell in love with the la'chic creations of one local costumer Katherine of THE SEWING FACTORY on West Bonanza and is having them express-ship garments to her as she travels about the eastern cities modeling for varied audiences.

Lois began modeling some 4-years ago and has since been on the minds eye of many, strolling the run-ways in her love'li-ness and stunning creations of fashion. Many Las Vegas living folks saw her at The Union Plaza Hotel when the Austin-Sutton Production came to the city of glitter and glamour. Her climbing career has the look of many travels, lending her talents to the sight & mind of many who love to see fashions and beauty on

Lois is a member of the M—D—L, Modeling & Fashion Management Company. She is also a free-lance model who has a 'Who-Is-Who' resume of modeling credits; namely La Chic Models-Parliment Ten Club, T-One Lounge, Greene's Extravaganza Models - 2001 Supper Club, Military Retirees Club-Flamingo Lounge, Ebony Island Club, John Marshall Hotel, Holiday Inn's (Richmond, Va.) Ellington's Supper Club, Richmond Hyatt House.

With the Rhapsody Models she appeared at the Richmond Marriott Hotel. Her Designer Shows have been with The Austin-Sutton Productions when they toured Las Vegas and Los Angeles. Other appearances included LoJo Designs Act-2, Mary Woods Designs- Ramada Inn (Petersburg), Tres Chic-John Marshall Fashions Awards, Fashion Awards-Hyatt House (Richmond), Edouard Johnson- Tres Chic, Flamingo Lounge, MDL Productions-Mosque Ballroom and Edward Burke-Flamingo Lounge.

She has been the prize catch for draping costly clothing upon her dainty body by such noted designers as Shirley Gibson-Wardrobe Art: Richmond, Va.; Faye Pearson-Pearson Designs: Gleen Allen, Va.; Jo Sheryl Amos & Louis Hawkins-LoJo Designs: Richmond, Va.; Edouard Johnson-'Edouard': Washington, D.C.; Edward Burke-Burke-'O' Wits: Washington, D.C.; Mary Woods-Designs Especially For You: Richmond, Va. and Pat Smith-Pat Smith Designs: Baltimore, MD.

As was said, The Lady is on the go seeing places.

Her Television appearance was with Tres Chic Fashion Show on Channel 31 in Richmond, Va. She has enjoyed modeling costly furs from Alan Furs of Richmond, Va. and has rejoiced in the many wonderful people she has come to meet in her travels through the U.S.A. It was a pleasure meeting her, along with Darrell Coleman & Sam

Lois Johnson

Daniels (male models) whom I have plans of telling YOU about next week. Also will cover her Personal Manager Luther S. Morton, Jr., President of MDL Modeling and Fashion Management Company.
