

Ten days remain for "Black Las Vegans For African Relief" Fund Raising Drive

According to Dr. Paul Meacham, chairman of the Black Las Vegans For African Relief committee, there are only ten days remaining in the effort to raise funds for those less fortunate in Africa due to the drought and famine. The local effort started on June 30 and will terminate through July 20.

Many of the area churches are continuing their efforts, particularly on Sundays and the drive also continues with many organizations and through individual efforts.

A number of community businesses are posting the "Black Las Vegans for African Relief" posters to indicate they have been designated as authorized locations where anyone desiring to contribute may do so at any of those points.

All individuals making any collections are identified wearing the official badge with a picture of Africa superimposed with the shape of Nevada and clasped hands.
