

THE NAACP AND YOU!

Rev. Jesse D. Scott
President
Las Vegas, NAACP

Las Vegas Money Town USA

It is estimated that a billion dollars changes hands every day in the city where the lights never fail to shine.

Las Vegas is a city where gambling is legal as well as all other activities that go along with gambling.

People come to Las Vegas from all over the world willing, ready and prepared to put their life's savings on the line with hope of striking it big and winning a bundle.

Sometimes they win but most often they lose. Nevertheless those who choose to gamble appear to be enthralled over the possibility of winning.

In Las Vegas there is money, money, money everywhere you look and everywhere you do.

Las Vegas — A City Of Prosperity and Growth

Within the last fifteen years there has been glaring evidence of social economic and industrial growth of phenomenal proportions have taken place in the greater Las Vegas Valley.

First, we have had the billion dollar housing development in Green Valley located on the suburbs of Henderson, Nevada. Then we have Thomas & Mack Center.

Secondly, we have McCarran 2000 a futuristic airport development — so modern that its appointments outdistance most of the airports of the world.

Thirdly, we have Cashman Field, The Meadows Mall and

Downtown Development.

Finally, future plans call for a fast train from Los Angeles, a people mover on the strip and an expansion of downtown Las Vegas into the Westside of town.

West Las Vegas Remains the Same

The paradox is that right here in the very midst of all this progress and opulence, less than a mile away, there exists a portion of the city known as West Las Vegas that is in depression and squalor.

Our resolve must continue to be that we will not remain silent as long as this paradoxical condition haunts us as a Tale of Two Cities.

If you fail to show up at the NAACP Freedom Fund Banquet '85 this preacher will have his choice of giving you a blessing or a cussing. You guess the one you will receive.

The Freedom Fund Banquet will be held Saturday night, Oct. 19, 7 p.m. in the Holiday Inn Center Strip.

Tony Brown of Tony Brown Journal will be the speaker and entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. will also be on hand.

Virna Canson, NAACP Regional Director Speaks
