

NEVADA BLACK CHAMBER ANNUAL INSTALLATION BANQUET A SUCCESS

The Nevada Black Chamber of Commerce's Second Annual Installation Banquet held on Friday, Oct. 25 at Heritage Hall in the Nucleus Shopping Plaza, was a huge success and attended by more than 300 participants and supporters.

The evening activities saw outgoing President William "Bob" Bailey relinquish the gavel to incoming President Lonie Chaney. During the program Bailey expounded on the theme "NBCC Today" while Chaney followed with the challenging note on "NBCC-The Future".

The guest speaker was U.S. Congressional Representative Barbara F. Vucanovich, 2nd Dist., Nevada and was introduced by the Clark County Community College President Dr. Paul Meacham. Congressman Vucanovich also installed the NBCC Board.

Other participants on the program were Rev. S.P. Parks, TV Channel 13 Anchorman Steve Sherr and the Boy Scout Troop #515.

Past Presidents Sarann Knight-Preddy and Dr. James B. McMillan were also in attendance.

McMillan were also in attendance.

Nevada Governor Richard Bryan made a brief visit while on the way to another speaking engagement. Representatives for the Congressman Harry Reid and Lt. Gov. Bob Cashell were also on hand and made statements on behalf of these officials.

Shown below are some candid photos of some who were in attendance and some of the many who are regular supporters of the Nevada Black Chamber of Commerce:

Congressman Barbara F. Vucanovich is shown delivering the keynote address at the NBCC Annual Installation banquet. Seated (left) Outgoing President Bob Bailey and (Right) Incoming President Lonie Chaney.

Shown above (L-R) John Vucanovich, Congressman Barbara Vucanovich, Incoming President Lonie Chaney and his wife Joyce.

Nevada Governor Richard Bryan spent a few moments at the banquet enroute to another engagement. Off his right shoulder is the chamber's Executive Director Gwyn Brown-Coleman.

