Diana Ross returns to Caesars Palace

Diana Ross returns to Caesars Palace March 12-24 to headline in the Circus Maximus Showroom. Ms. Ross, who first gained national attention when she sang with The Supremes, has hit records stretching over the past 25 years. Her first singles with The Supremes, "I Want A Guy" and "Buttered Popcorn," were released in 1961. Every year since has brought more memorable hit records, like "Stop! In the Name of Love," "Reflections" and "Endless Love." The latest album, "Eaten Alive," features cuts penned by the Bee Gees brothers and Michael Jackson.

Although music has been her base, Diana has expanded her creative energies into a number of other fields. She has formed her own production company, Anaid Film Productions, Inc. "I love to make movies," she explained. "I always have.

But I need a project that thoroughly inspires and excites me. That's the idea behind Anaid. I realized that if I was going to set such high standards for my films, I was going to have to be the one to see that they were satisfied."

Television, films, and activities as a businesswoman, entrepreneur and humanitarian keep her life moving at an exciting pace, but her music is never forgotten. "Music is my foundation," remarked Diana. "I feel most fully alive in my music. No matter where else life may take me, I'll never give up my music."

Joe Williams to open for Don Rickles

Don Rickles will once again return to the Sahara Hotel for a six-day engagement March 11-16. The barbed-tongued favorite will welcome a very special opening act, Joe Williams.

Joe Williams

Joe Williams began singing on the south side of Chicago nearly 50 years ago and has won his way into the hearts and souls of people the world over. With the release of his first hit record with the Count Basie Orchestra in 1955, the name Joe Williams became synonymous with the blues, impeccable taste and vocal excellence.

Along with being heard throughout the world on records and in live performances on club and concert stages, Williams has performed motion picture soundtracks and in numerous television shows. Williams is active in fundraising for a variety of charities and can often be seen on national telethons.

Over the years, Williams has amassed a truly impressive array of achievements and honors. Included among those are his Grammy Award in 1984 for Best Jazz Vocal, his own 'star' on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, and the first annual Black Legend Award.

While some feel that Joe Williams is a living legend, the truth is that the legend of Joe Williams has just begun.

Williams and Rickles can be seen at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday and at 8:00 p.m. and midnight on Friday and Saturday. Dinner is available at the early show and the cost is $27.95 per person. The cocktail show is $22.50 per person.

Billy Eckstine and daughter at 4 Queens

Billy Eckstine is starring at the fabulous Four Queens Hotel and Casino March 10 through March 30. Performance times are 9 p.m. and 11 p.m. with a special show Friday and Saturday at 12:30 a.m.

Mr. B's previous French Quarter performance was a spectacular success, proving that he maintains a commanding position in the world of male singers.

Known for his smooth and easy baritone vocals, Eckstine continues to soothe the souls of his ardent admirers wherever he appears. With over four decades in the music industry, Mr. B is still strikingly handsome and possesses a musical charm that can pleasantly seduce a listener's ear. Billy Eckstine is truly a remarkable talent.

Gina Eckstine, daughter of the talented Billy Eckstine, is appearing at the fabulous Four Queens Hotel and Casino March 10 through April 5. Performance times are 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.

Gina's performance is first-class. She is remarkably versatile, covering a wide spectrum of musical styles, from contemporary top 40 to mellow ballads.

Billy Eckstine

This musical young lady had a captivating voice; powerful and pure with strong delivery. There is maturity in her style and devotion to her lyrics which makes for an outstandingly entertaining performance.

Don't miss the opportunity of enjoying two generations of the talented Eckstines.
