Christian Community Rallying for Jubilee March

The Christian community is once again joining in the Jubilee March scheduled for December 31, New Year's Eve, at 7:00 p.m. in the parking lot of Wet-In-Wild.

Participants plan to match down the Strip, lifting banners high, and letting their lights shine for our Lord Jesus Christ. This March takes less than two hours to walk, yet makes a mighty, Godly statement for Las Vegas in 1987.

This march is the joint effort of many Believers, joined in a unified Body, and is not intended to lift up any one group or denomination; nor is it a protest march.

Christians, start now on some positive-statement banners!

The march leaders pray that everyone will work this into their New Year's Eve Watch Night activities.

Watch for more information as plans progress.

R. Fred Bates Laid To Rest

R. Fred Bates & wife Marie Bates

He was a man who moved about and spent many fruitful years in this city of glitter, glamor and gloom. He was known and loved by countless people for his many, many "deeds of humanism" throughout the city. He was a man who enjoyed wonderful days working and living a life to the "highest hilts" of measure for self and others. He was often greeted as: "Bates", Mr. Bates, Fred Bates or Ole-Man Bates. He was so full of wisdom of the life-style of the world in a most profound way. He was never too busy to make a "pop-call" to see if someone was in need due to the cares of the day.

Long will live the heart-felt memories of R. Fred Bates, born Feb. 14, 1908 in New Orleans, Louisiana. He passed into the realms of death on October 5, 1986. His request that his body be donated to the study of science has been carried out.

He leaves his wife Marie

Bates; Mildred Williams-daughter; Nathaniel Williams--son-in-law; Michael, Mark and Nathaniel, Jr.--grandsons; Ibelia Turner--sister-in-law; and a host of relatives and friends.

Hats off to R. Fred Bates. Rest in Peace
