

Delta Sigma Theta Presenting "Sepia Fashion Review"

The Las Vegas Alumnae Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. will present its 10th Annual Sepia Fashion Review featuring the Hamilton Vogue-Esquire Models of Chicago at the Tropicana Hotel in the Pacific Ballroom on Saturday, December 6 at 8:00 p.m.

This year's theme is "Elegantly Chic '86". The two hour fast-paced fashion extravaganza promises to be the most exciting and dramatic in the 28 year history of the traveling production. Under the direction of Carlton and Fannie Hamilton, ten of the top runway models in the country will leave you spellbound as they bring you only the best in wearable American and European designer fashions. "Elegantly Chic '86" reflects the mood of current fashion trends -- the return of glamour and sophistication. The elongated streamlined silhouette, body skimming dresses, constructed suits with nip-waist jackets.

You will witness longer, fuller coats belted tightly at the waist to define the body and sweater sets in plush cashmere. Luxurious textures will be featured with softer neutral tones in wheat, cinnamon, ivory and coral.

For evening, glamorous hand jeweled and beaded gowns and shapely dresses in soft silk crepe and panne velvet are featured.

The show features high fashions from outstanding American and European designers such as Bob Mackie, Oscar de La Renta, Mario Valentino, Bill Blass, Willie Smith, Claude Montana, Richard Brown and many, many more.

The show will spotlight Richard Brown of Chicago, as he introduces his 86/87 collection. He is one of the hottest new designers in the country.

"Elegantly Chic '86" is a fashion event you will not want to miss.

Proceeds from the event will benefit Delta's Scholars, local high school students with a desire to further their education. This year, scholars will receive approximately $15,000 in scholarship awards from the proceeds of this annual event. Donations are $20.00 for adults and $15.00 for students. For further information call Flo Gray, Chairperson at 451-7714.

PRESSURE

is a fight for changes in how resources are distributed in society.

"The greater the disparity in distribution of resources -- money, political power, education and opportunities for offspring to be integral parts of society -- the greater the competition for, those resources will be," Chesser said. "The have-nots will increase pressure on the haves for resources to be distributed more evenly."

The more closely individuals are related, the stronger the biological drive for cooperation among them will be. The high degree of mothers kills offspring of others in prairie dog communities is an example of that, he said.

"Even though the other infants are closely related to them, the mothers try to ensure survivorship of their own -- those who are most closely related to them -- especially in times of low resources," Chesser said. "If there is not enough for everyone to survive, the mother will do everything she can to make sure her offspring are among the survivors."

Genetically propogated cooperation, or the lack of it, is one explanation for the greater incidence of child abuse by step-parents than biological parents, he said. A step-parent is not closely related to a step-child and reacts to the child much differently than if the child were genetically related.
