AFAN Announces Volunteer Training Class

Aid for AIDS of Nevada (AFAN) announces its first training class for volunteers in 1987. Those interested in becoming volunteers to assist people with AIDS are asked to call the AFAN office at 369-6162.

Wes Davis, the Executive Director of AFAN stated that the need for volunteers always outstrips the resources. "At present we have approximately 25 trained volunteers, while we expect in Clark County alone an increase of 65 cases of AIDS this year."

AFAN provides several services to people with AIDS, as well as an information and referral phone service. "Many people want to help in the AIDS crisis, but don't know how," Davis said. "We can show them not only how to help people with AIDS, but how to educate others so they can avoid AIDS."

For more information about AIDS, call AFAN at 369-6162 or Clark County Health District at 383-1393.

Poker's Legendary Amarillo Slim Brings Tournament to Caesars Palace

Caesars Palace will award more than $2 million in prizes and purses in the resort's first poker tournament, the Super Bowl of Poker, January 29-February 12, hosted by legendary Amarillo Slim Preston. The tournament will feature thirteen different poker events open to the public, with buy-ins ranging from $200 to $10,000. Over 1,000 entrants are expected to compete in the resort's newly remodeled and expanded Card Room.

One of the featured contests will be "Caesars Super Challenge," a no-limit hold'em game with a $1,000 buy-in. Besides cash winnings, the Super Challenge winner will drive home in the new Ford Bronco currently on display at the hotel.

The final event of the tournament will be a $1,000 buy-in no-limit hold'em with an expected $500,000 purse, half of which will go to the winner. The total purse will depend on the number of entrants.

Amarillo Slim, the tournament host, is currently on a west coast tour of card rooms to personally invite some of the country's best poker players to participate in the tournament.

Tournament reservations are available through Caesars' VIP Services department at (702) 731-7777 or (800) 722-2727, and registration for events begins January 27 in the Card Room. Satellite games for the tournament begin in the Palace Card Room on January 12.

Players must be at least 21 years old. Entry fees will pay for table time and dealers. There will be on "time" or "rake-off" charges. Each event will be a "freeze-out" game in which play will continue until one player has all the chips. Players may qualify for any event by posting the required buy-in prior to the start of play. Standard poker rules will apply in each event. Buy-ins are not refundable once play has begun. No play will last longer than 10 hours on any given day, with two scheduled breaks. In those events where limit increases are scheduled, break will take place every two hours.

The finals for some games may take place the following day. No-tournament play will be available in the Card Room during the tournament when space permits.

Harlem Globetrotters Coming

They play nearly 200 road games a season, but always hold the home court advantage. And after 60 seasons as professionals, they still don't observe the rules, and everytime they hit the court, the audience laughs.

This Saturday, at 2 p.m. Las Vegans have a chance to laugh along with the fun-loving Harlem Globetrotters as they make their annual visit at UNLV's Thomas & Mack Center.

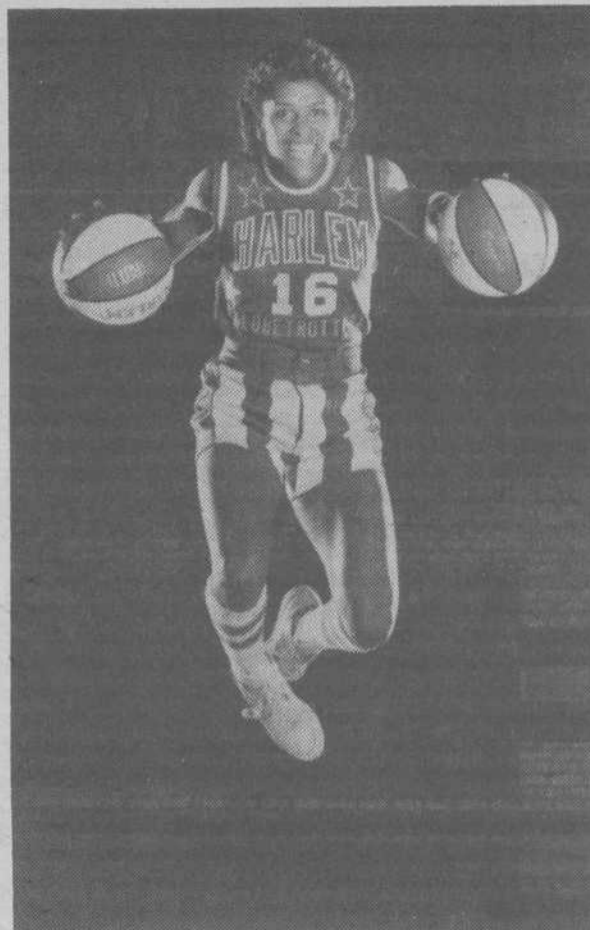

Adding to the fast-paced action are two female Globetrotters with the recent addition of Jackie White.

White joins Lynette Woodard, the first female Globetrotter in performing the basketball high jinks that span the past 50 years.

"I've always admired the Harlem Globetrotters, not only for their electrifying basketball skills, but for their entertainment mission," she said.

In celebrating its Diamond Jubilee this year, the Harlem Globetrotters skill and athletic prowess is just half the story in explaining the magician's of basketball sustaining appeal.

Another reason for their durability as a family attraction is their generation-spanning appeal. Each generation seems to discover them, and the fellow who saw the team in the 1930's with his kids, brings his grandchildren. Something of a father-to-son/daughter legacy.

What the Trotters really offer is a good time. They are the only basketball team anywhere that can turn a slam dunk into a laughter matter.
