Mothers March Scheduled for Jan. 22-25

This year's Mother March to raise funds to continue the March of Dimes battle against birth defects is scheduled to take place in Las Vegas, Henderson, Boulder City and Tonopah, January 22nd thru the 25th.

Volunteers are still needed for the march. Anyone interested in helping prevent birth defects should call 734-1232.

The Mothers March is the oldest, national fund raiser sponsored by the March of Dimes. Contrary to its name, the Mothers March was started by two men. Today almost 50 percent of Southern Nevada's Marchers are men.

The Mothers March is the March of Dimes special and personalized way of reaching into every neighborhood to ask for help.

Great progress has been made since the March of Dimes started the fight against birth defects in 1955, and every year brings more knowledge and help for the unborn and newborn.

The money collected during the Mothers March helps support programs in birth defects research, medical services and educational programs.

The Mothers March this year is being sponsored by KMZQ-FM, O'no and Associates and Scott Herold's Care Care.

Health Notes

Influenza

Influenza occurs in epidemics, usually appearing in the winter or early spring. The highest incidence occurs among school children, but all age groups have influenza. The disease and its effects last a few weeks or longer.

Influenza is caused by viruses which have similar biological properties. However, the viruses are distinct and separate. The sources of infection are the respiratory secretions of infected persons. Following a one-to three-day incubation period--the period of time appearance of the first sign of the disease--the signs of influenza are chills, fever, headache, backache, malaise, loss of appetite, and muscular aching. Although fever and muscular aching are the most prominent signs of influenza, the infected person also complains about a sore throat, fullness in the nose, and a cough. Other signs may include weakness, pain or burning sensation in the eyeballs, nausea, nasal discharge and vomiting. Recovery from influenza is usually rapid. Some infected persons experience weakness for several days while others have a cough for two or three week period.

The number of serious complications from influenza is quite low. Among the less serious but more frequent complications are inflammations of the trachea, bronchi, sinus and middle ear. However, severe cases may be dangerous to infants or elderly persons, especially if they are already weakened by some chronic disease or condition. Influenza fatalities are not unknown.

Bed rest and mild medications which relieve pain and fever are the best treatments for influenza when the infected person has no complications. The most satisfactory means of preventing influenza is vaccination. Persons receiving the vaccination may have tenderness, swelling, and redness at the place where the injection of the vaccination is made. The vaccination for influenza should be taken each year before this contagious disease is reported within the community.

Dental Care Overlooked in Young Children

February is National Children's Dental Health Month and according to the Southern Nevada Dental Hygienists' Association, it's the perfect time to put an end to the myth that "baby teeth" aren't important.

Children need their primary (baby) teeth to chew food properly, to speak clearly, and to help preserve space in the jaw for permanent teeth.

To protect the primary teeth prevent tooth decay, the Southern Nevada Dental Hygienists' Association advises that good dental hygiene habits begin when teeth first appear.

Clean your child's teeth and gums with a washcloth or gauze pad after each feeding to prevent tooth decay.
