To Present
"Alone Together"

The award winning Las Vegas Little Theatre will present the captivating comedy "Alone Together" by Lawrence Roman May 15 through May 31 at the UNLV Grant Hall Theatre. Performances are Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m.

The plays setup rings true for all parents who have paid their dues and waited patiently — even passionately — for that elusive thing called privacy.

Having hugged and kissed the last of their three sons off to college, Helene and George Butler have chilled the champagne and dug up the old animal skin rug and are just settling down to a long awaited, long overdue evening alone. Suddenly there is an invasion — the sons come home again.

One son is an accomplished mathematician who can't cope with life outside LA, another appears after his wife leaves him, and if that isn't enough to douse the flames of romance, a newfound female friend of the just-departed, but soon to return third son, has just shown up for some temporary housing until her college housing comes through.
