

BUILDING UPON THE THEME, 'THE BLACK FAMILY: A PROUD PAST ... A CHALLENGING FUTURE'

The National Council of Negro Women opened their 43rd Annual Convention November 11th at the Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C. Discussing conference highlights, Dr. Dorothy I. Height, NCNW President announced the uplink of the first in a series of parent education teleworkshops. In a joint venture with the black college satellite telecommunication network the workshops will be broadcast live via satellite to over 200 downlink receive sites and carried by 150 additional cable stations nationwide. These teleworkshops are expected to reach nearly 500,000 parents, educators, church groups, community based organizations and local leaders.

NCNW's teleworkshops will focus on parent education strategies, aimed at enhancing the education of black and minority children. Specifically, the program will help parents and children to understand how to take full advantage of educational opportunities enhancing their choices for the future. A primary focus will be on the parent as the child's first teacher and the importance of guiding and nurturing minority children's interest in mathematics, science, reading and English.

The teleworkshops will feature successful model programs that work to increase parent involvement in such areas as homework, test taking, improving grades, enhancing reading, writing and communication skills and excelling in math and science subject matter.

"This effort is a unique progressive undertaking of NCNW and it's a national affiliate organizations to bring innovative solutions that effectively address critical educational needs of black and minority children in America." Dr. Height continues, "As always the National Council of Negro Women is in the eye of the storm, we are guided by the use of today's communication technology to reach, to teach, to train, and equip black families to meet the challenge of the future."

National experts and leaders were on hand to help advance NCNW's ideas to resolve the pressing education issues in Black America.

Register

One Hundred Black Men, Inc. Announces Eighth Annual Benefit Scholarship Dinner Dance at Windows on the World.

100 BLACK MEN, INC. — Eighth Annual Scholarship Benefit Dinner Dance, November 19, 1987, 8:00 PM, Windows on the World, World Trade Center, New York. Kevin C. Greenidge, M.D., Dinner Chair; Manhattan Borough President, David Dinkins; Roscoe C. Brown, Jr., Ph.D., President.

NEW YORK — The 100 Black Men, Inc. will sponsor its annual Scholarship Benefit Dance on Thursday, November 19 at Windows on the World, it was announced by Dr. Roscoe C. Brown, Jr., President.

"The Scholarship Fund of the 100 Black Men, Inc. provides scholarships each year to deserving young men and women who are graduates of public high schools," Dr. Brown noted.

"Currently, many of our scholarship recipients are in attendance at institutions such as Fordham University, Shaw University, New York University, Marymount College and member institutions of the City University of New York and State University of New York systems," said Dr. Brown.

One Hundred Black Men, Inc. is an organization of men in business, industry, public affairs, government, the professions from throughout New York State, and a few from other states who share a common goal: improving the quality of life for Blacks and other minorities.

"The evening will include such activities as dining, networking, and dancing in an elegant atmosphere at Windows on the World," said Dr. Kevin Greenidge, chairman of the Scholarship Benefit Committee. Music will be provided by Ron Anderson and the Versatiles. A special feature this year will be the introduction of Cafe Ebony, where new talent will be featured for listening enjoyment. The artists this year will be the composer Genovis Albright; singer Claude Jay; and Latin music by Jeorge Espinosa, harpist and Gerard Ederer, guitarist. The musical environment will be surrounded with paintings by Don Jones.

THIS BOOKLET CAN CHANGE THE WAY YOU PLAN TO PAY FOR COLLEGE.

THE G.I. BILL PLUS THE ARMY COLLEGE FUND CAN BE WORTH UP TO $25,200 TOWARD YOUR COLLEGE EDUCATION.

Here's how it works: First you contribute to your education—$100 per month for the first full 12 months of your enlistment. Then the government contributes—up to $9,600. That's the G.I. Bill. With the Army College Fund, you can add up to $14,400 more! (See table below.)

ENLISTMENT	THE G.I. BILL	THE G.I. BILL PLUS THE ARMY COLLEGE FUND
2 years	$9,000	$17,000
3 years	$10,800	$22,800
4 years	$10,800	$25,200

And the rewards of being a soldier go far beyond earning money for college. You'll also learn self-reliance, discipline, team-work and pride. So when you do get to college, you'll be able to get the most out of it.

For more information about this program and how you can qualify for it, see your local Army Recruiter today. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY. You'll find out that paying for college through the Army pays off in more ways than one.

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

More than 450 individuals participated in the San Diego Urban League job training and employment program last year, with an 83 percent job placement rate. To support this program for the upcoming year, Ronald E. Smiley, region-manager, corporate affairs, Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. (right), presents a check to San Diego Urban League President and Chief Executive Officer Herb Cawthorne, on behalf of the company.