great leaders we've ever had have been rooted in God."

Although the debate got off to a slow start because of the weather and flight delays, the experience was well worth the wait. Las Vegas, particularly the many African-American high-school and college students in attendance, will long remember it as the icing on the cake to this year's Black History Celebration.

KVVU TV5 Announces Minority Scholarship Program

Las Vegas, NV - A scholarship program for minority college students majoring in broadcasting or radio and television studies has been established by the Meredith Broadcasting Group which owns and operates television station KVVU TV5. An annual award of $2,500 will be given each year to an outstanding full-time student who will be a junior or senior and who resides in each of the seven areas where Meredith has broadcasting properties.

The student must be attending a degree-granting college or university anywhere in the United States and major in subjects leading to a career in broadcasting. The geographical residential eligibility area for KVVU TV5 includes the following counties: Clark, Lincoln and the southern portion of Nye.

Program awards are renewable once if a student is a junior at the time the award is given and maintains required progress towards his or her degree.

The program is independently administered by Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America, Inc. (CSFA), a nonprofit, tax exempt national scholarship service organization located in St. Peter, Minnesota. Recipients will be selected on the basis of the CSFA Merit Point System, and the awards paid by CSFA on behalf of Meredith Corporation.

School District Holds Free Medical Screening Clinics

The school district holds a genetic/diagnostic clinic monthly to evaluate children who are at risk for learning problems. The service is offered free to children and their families who are medically undiagnosed and have a variety of high-risk indicators that may suggest a genetic problem.

The goal of this genetic/diagnostic clinic, according to school nurse Renee Ball, is to determine if an underlying medical problem is contributing to a child's academic or behavioral problems. Ball also acts as coordinator for the clinic and is responsible for facilitating clinic referrals. The clinic, under the medical direction of Pediatric Geneticist Colleen Morris, M.D., is held at University Medical Center.

Ball said, "Due to the growing number of high risk children and medically fragile children, clinic openings are very limited. Because of time constraints only three students are evaluated at each clinic. All appointments for the genetic/diagnostic clinic are processed by the school nurse. Parents are encouraged to contact the school nurse at their child's school regarding any health concerns."

A scoliosis screening clinic is also offered free for children suspected of having a curvature of the spine. This clinic is under the medical direction of Orthopedic Surgeon John Thalgot, M.D.
