

Variety Day Care Center a Part of Downtown Redevelopment Program

The Variety Day Care Center recently had its grand reopening. Located at 990 "D" Street, off Washington, the non-secular program is sponsored by the Variety Club of Southern Nevada, Tent No. 39. Through its enlargement as a part of the redevelopment program, the facility, which cares for children 6 months of age through kindergarten, can now care for up to 220 children as opposed to the 164 accommodated previously. The facility has a staff of 60 workers, 43 of whom are paid staff. Many dignitaries were on hand for the Grand Opening of the remodeled and enlarged facility.

Congressman James Bilbray, second from left, was on hand for the Grand Opening. At left is Sister Diana, who is in charge of the facility and has been affiliated with the Variety Day Care Center since 1936.
