JACOB

That's a serious abdication of responsibility. Especially, since the problem is even worse than it appears.

According to Census data, not only are over 5 million children living in families with annual incomes below the poverty line -- but another 2.7 million are in families just above that artificially low "poverty line."

That means one of every three young children in America is poor or near poor.

The poverty line itself is an understated, arbitrary figure. But, however one may define poverty, there can be no disagreement that those kids are growing up in hardship.

WORDS OF LIFE

BIBLICAL INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

"Be not rash...nor be hasty." Psalm 141:2

1. Be calm! If we lose our heads, it has been aptly said, we are sure to lose our case. Calmness quiets this impetuous pounding in our hearts. It prevents us from acting prematurely. When we let our feelings "take control," instead of merely making suggestions to our minds so that the best overall judgements may be made, we are being rash...and so we tend to lose.

2. Don't be too quick! Trigger-happy people act too hastily; and they most often regret what they have done. The Scriptures well remind us to "rest in the Lord." Wait patiently for Him; and He will give thee thy heart's desire." That's the kind of antidote we all need at times to haste. Wait! Wait upon the Lord...and find our heart's desire in Him.

3. "Easy does it!" Jesus said: "Take my yoke upon you; for my yoke is easy and my burden is light. When we take upon us just the responsibilities that God would have us bear, then no step of our way becomes too difficult, no weight is ever too heavy for us.

Take it easy! Don't be rash! Don't be hasty! Rest easy in the Lord! All will be well for you.

Many of those children are in female-headed households. They are poor because one breadwinner isn't enough to keep a family out of poverty and because women -- especially minority women -- earn less and are more often unemployed.

But two out of every five of those poor youngsters are living in intact families with two parents, and most of those children had at least one parent working full or part-time.

So the disgrace of child poverty is tied to America's failure to create jobs at living wages for family breadwinners.

Even full-time, year-round work at the minimum wage would leave a family well below the poverty line.

We need to move aggressively to combat child poverty, and we can't separate it from adult poverty.

One front of the war on child poverty should be to raise incomes of the poor through increased support programs and real world work and training programs that lead to jobs.

A second front must be preventive -- developmental, education and health programs that ensure poor children have equal access to life's basic needs and to the tools with which to construct decent lives as they grow to adulthood.

That goes beyond adding a few more dollars to Head Start's budget -- it means implementing long-term strategies that ensure that today's poverty children grow up to be tomorrow's middle class adults.
