With a 24-20 victory over the Green Bay Packers last Sunday, San Francisco has gone almost a complete year without a loss.

Ironically, their last loss was a 27-17 setback to the packers last Nov. 19 at Candlestick Park.

-K.C. Upends Raiders To Get Back Into Race-

The Kansas city Chiefs beat the L.A. Raiders 9-7 on 3 field goals last weekend and found themselves back in the race for the AFC West crown.

Plagued by rain, sleet and gusty winds, the Chiefs (5-3) capitalized on turnovers and dropped passes to drop the Raiders' record to 6-2.

"The weather conditions were such that we dropped some passes that we normally would have caught," Raiders coach Art Shell said.
