

FREE MOTHERS' DAY PROGRAMS HELD SCHEDULED

To single Mom out in her special day, several libraries will hold Mother's Day programs for children in May. Mother's Day stories and cards will be the center of activity at the Charleston Heights Library, 800 Brush St., May 7 at 4 p.m. Stories such as "Happy Mother's Day" by Steven Kroll and "The Mother's Day Mice" by Eve Bunting will be read aloud, then kids can make a keepsake card for Mom. Open to ages 6 years and up.

"Mother's Day Madness" is held at the Sahara West Library, 9002 W. Sahara, May 6 at 4 p.m. With the help from folks at the Stamp Oasis, kids can create a gift for Mom that will be sure to leave a lasting impression. Open to all school-age youngsters.

"Mothers Are Like No Others" is presented at Las Vegas Library, 833 Las Vegas Blvd. N., May 9 at 2 p.m. With the help of Cooperative Extension Department horticulturist Aggie Roberts, kids can plant a terrarium for Mother's Day. Participants must bring clear, two-liter plastic bottle with a detachable bottom section.

WEAPONLESS SELF DEFENSE FOR WOMEN WORKSHOPS AT LIBRARIES

Knowing how to defend yourself against a would-be attacker should be a part of every woman's personal safety plan. So, watch, try and learn as Karate instructors Stan Witz of Karate USA and Gary Booker of the Black Tiger Karate Club demonstrate a few moves.

Witz educates women of all ages how to defend themselves without using weapons Tuesday, May 12 at 7 p.m. at the Green Valley Library, 2797 Green Valley Pkwy.

Pre-registration required. Call 435-1840.

Gary Booker, a black belt in Tae Kwon Do, demonstrates his weaponless self defense methods designed especially for women Saturday, May 16, 2 p.m., at the West Las Vegas Library, 921 W. Lake Mead Blvd.

For more information call 647-2118. Casual clothing suggested. All programs are free to the public.
