"YOUNG MAN, OLDER WOMAN" WOWS 'EM tour for Millie Jackson's hot new musical stage production "Young Man, Older Woman," was New Orleans, and people of Crecent City loved every minute of it!!!

From opening night and throughout the entire week that the stage production played at the State Palace Theatre, each night's audience grew larger and larger in size as the word filtered around, "Millie's new musical comedy stage play was the hottestentertainmentticketin town " It was also noted, that a notice-

The first stop on the national able number of people came back again and again bringing friends and parties to see repeat performances of this musical comedy that had become the 'talk of the town' following its' opening

Although Millie Jackson has no previous history or credits on her resume listing her as an accomplished actress, she proved without a doubt that she's quite the accomplished actress, and more than ready to include the listing of 'actress' on her growing list of career accomplishments

She was simply awesome in the starring role of thus production of "Young Man, Older Woman," certainly allows her

The all star cast supporting Millie in this stage production that really gives its audience a parade if talent plus, includes comedian/actor Reynaldo Rey from "227" and the "The Royal Family" television series. whose recent Def Jam HBO Comedy appearance still has people laughing, hit recording artists Keisha Jackson and Miles Jaye whose single and album releases have held top spots on popular music charts. noted record producer Douglas Knyght whose hit productions have benefited numerous recording stars, and Kenny "Chocolate Thunder" Montague who plays the role of the Drag Queen in the musical production. Add to the above list of talents Pjaye Scott, another noted record producer serving as the show's musical director, plus Millie's internationally famous E.Z. Askshun Band lead by George Moreland, and including Harold Small on Key-included in the musical make up the hot hilarious "Young Man, Older Woman" production. Millie of course handles most of the singing load. However, all cast members are called on to sing one or two songs as the story unfolds. Even Reynaldo Rey gives a side splitting rap version of "Baby I'm Scared of You" in his co-starring role opposite Millie.

Audience response was very highon Keisha Jackson's version of "Hot Little Love Affair," and "I've Been A Fool For You" sung by Miles Jave. Douglas Knyght made the audience laugh with his version of "You Make Me Think" in his role as Reynaldo's conscience, then stirred their emotions with his power funk rendition of "Some Day We'll Be Free." Every song sung by Millie was a highlight performance; however, "When Are You Going To Tell
