

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED MUSLIMS

Scheduled activities included pony rides for the children, clowns, acrobats, balloons, gifts and numerous dishes, fruits, exotic salads, Kabobs from several countries, lamb and goat dishes and much more. Some activities were cancelled due to windy conditions.

With the population of Muslims in Clark County growing rapidly (currently an estimated 20,000 or more from as many as fifteen countries), it is no wonder that the attendance at Islamic Cultural Center is growing and that interest has drawn many African-Americans and other minorities as well.

"Eid Al Adha" is equivalent to the Christian holiday "Christmas" and the Jewish holiday "Hannukah."

While Muslims in Las Vegas were celebrating in Mount Charleston, other local Muslims were collecting and dispensing food to the poor.

Whenever there is a feast, Muslims are obligated to remember the needy, the wayfarer and the indigent "down-the-dust" (such as those who are down on there luck or homeless.) This feast was no exception, as food was collected and distributed among the poor, while some families paid for sacrificial lambs and goats to be prepared, processed, cooked and distributed.

For example, a Yugoslavian Muslim family with a three-year-old child, was the recipient of food, a special donation, and a job prospect for the unemployed father.

Those interested in more information on meeting times and future activities can call the Islamic Cultural Center at (702) 734-5985 or come by 88 East Sahara, Suite 202.
