DOLLAR & SENSE MAGAZINE SALUTES TOP BLACK BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN OF 1992

America's Top Black Business and Professional Women of 1992 are announced in the July Women's Issue of Dollars & Sense magazine.

The 88 women featured and being honored during the magazine's eighth annual Tribute to America's Best & Brightest Men and Women are representative of a growing body of African-American women making outstanding contributions in business, the professions and in their communities.

Young and Successful, 97 percent of these women are between the ages of 25-49; 49 percent earn $50,000 or more annually; and 47 percent own homes or condominiums valued at $200,000 or more. The lifestyles of these women are examined in the feature "Young, Female and Successful."

Also highlighted in this annual Women's Issue are four "Very Important Prestigious Women," cited for their distinguished career achievements. They are: Democratic nominee of for the U.S. Senate, Carol Moseley Braun, currently Cook County (IL) Recorder of Deeds; Sarah Burroughs, senior vice president and general manager of the Atlanta office of Burrell Advertising Inc., the nation's largest black-owned ad agency; Ingrid Saunders Jones, vice president, corporate external affairs of The Coca-Cola Company and chairman of The Coca-Cola Foundation, Atlanta; and Joyce C. Willis, assistant vice president and director of public relations for the $38 billion ITT Hartford Insurance Group.

As an added bonus, the FASTRAK column, Dollars & Sense's newest department, tells how Emeline King, recipient of the first annual FASTRAK AWARD, made it into the ranks of automotive design at Ford Motor Company.

All of the women featured in the July issue will be honored at a gala weekend awards conference August 14-15, 1992, at Atlanta's Westin Peachtree Plaza Hotel.

Corporate sponsors of the event include Ford Motor Company, Coca-Cola USA, and Hennessy, all of which have sponsored the annual Tribute since its inception in 1985.
