OPHIR SHRINE TEMPLE #211, A.E.A.O.N.M.S. SPONSORS MARVELOUS MYSTICS ON PARADE

Las Vegas, Nevada: "Wow" is the only word to describe the beguiling and bewildering feats of magic performed in the nationally touring all-professional Marvelous Mystics On Parade show sponsored by the Ophir Shrine Temple #211 at the Las Vegas High School auditorium on Thursday, October 8, 1992.

Mr. Cranford Crawford, member, says the Ophir Shrine Temple #211 plans to use the funds raised from the show for its many charitable and community activities, such as contributions to medical research, scholarship grants, youth programs, children's Christmas party, and food baskets for deprived families. The Ophir Shrine Temple #211 was chartered on August 20, 1982 in the city of Las Vegas, Nevada. Since that time, Ophir Shrine Temple has gone on to operate as a fraternal, benevolent, and charitable organization. Its membership is dedicated to the historic principle of fostering civic, economic, and educational development programs in the Las Vegas area.

Children's tickets will be distributed by the Ophir Shrine Temple #211 free to area youth groups, thanks to the generous financial assistance of many businesses and individuals in the community. Many of these children will be experiencing the excitement of a real, live show for the first time.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN HISTORY

JEAN DIXON (CONDUCTOR)

By Gwen Walker

In 1941 Dean Dixon became the first African-American, and at 26, the youngest musician ever to conduct the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Dixon was born in Manhattan on January 10, 1915 and graduated from Dewitt Clinton High School in 1932. His parents exposed him to classical music by regularly taking him to Carnegie Hall. Dixon formed his own amateur orchestra at the Harlem YMCA while still in high school.

On the basis of a successful violin audition, he was admitted to the Juilliard Institute of Musical Art, where he received his B.S. in 1936. Three years later he acquired his master's from Columbia.

The Dean Dixon Symphony Society, which he had formed in 1932, began to receive financial support from the Harlem community in 1937, and in 1941, at the request of Eleanor Roosevelt, Dixon gave a concert at the Heckscher Theatre. He was later signed by the musical director of NBC to conduct the networks summer symphony in two concerts. Two month after the NBC concerts he made his debut with the Philharmonic.

EXPLOITATION

(Continued from Page 18) generate community pride and unity, like winning a world or national championship. Until this day we can see UNLV caps and gear on people from New York to California! So in this way also sporting teams are unique!

Finally and most importantly, it is about time they give these athletes some basic compensation for their troubles. Only 1% of all of these splendid achievers will make it to the top. It is a common fact that they recruit these boys from the inner cities, and exploit their talents for absolutely nothing! The hundreds of million of dollars which are made by these exploiting universities, can be made off the backs of these children, not conceding a cent!

They don't come to our communities at any other time, but let there be an "all star" athlete, and there will more whites in the community then you can throw a stick at! Anyway, after they use them up, they throw them back to the ghetto, while at the same time they build new buildings and facilities..(UNLV?) All the time they keep a meticulous list of the next line of ghetto youths to exploit absolutely free of charge! It doesn't get any better then that. So, if they can take us fast all the way until we get to the pros; THEN HEY, any amount of money pros can get is O.K. by me!

Peace...
