EARVIN "MAGIC" JOHNSON ENDORSES GOVERNOR BILL CLINTON FOR PRESIDENT

Washington, D.C. — Saying "we can't take four more years of the Bush Administration," Earvin "Magic" Johnson endorsed Democratic Presidential nominee Bill Clinton at the annual Congressional Black Caucus dinner in Washington, D.C. "We have to make sure that we understand that we can't take four more years of the Bush Administration, that we have to now get on the Clinton bandwagon and ride him all the way into November," said Johnson.

Johnson, a 10-time NBA All-Star who led the U.S. Olympic basketball to a gold medal in Barcelona this summer, resigned from the National Commission on AIDS on Friday, complaining that the Bush Administration had "dropped the ball" in the AIDS crisis.

"I have a deep respect for Magic Johnson's commitment and dedication to the young people of this country and his courageous battle against the HIV virus," said Clinton. "The hard work Magic and the entire AIDS commission put into developing a plan to wage war on AIDS has fallen on deaf ears. America can't afford another four years of a President who remains silent about the AIDS crisis."

"I look forward to working with Magic to give America a President who is serious about fighting AIDS and implementing a serious, comprehensive strategy to fight and win the battle against this disease," said Clinton.

Johnson said his support for Clinton went beyond the issue of AIDS. "I'm not just talking about HIV and AIDS, I'm talking about the whole economy, the whole thing, we need change," said Johnson.

STATEWIDE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE UP TWO-TENTHS OF A PERCENTAGE POINT

CARSON CITY— Nevada's statewide seasonally adjusted unemployment gained two-tenths of a percentage point in August, Stan Jones, executive director of the Nevada Employment Security Department (NESD) announced recently.

"Considering all data generated to compile the statewide unemployment rate, what we see is an economy that remains 'stuck' on a plateau," Jones said.

Despite signs of moderate recovery in gaming revenues and taxable sales, "statewide job growth of 1.8 percent over-the-year is nearly stagnant," Jones said. On a positive note, he pointed out, that the service industries show the largest gain with 4,300 new jobs over-the-year.

Jones said the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the nation's seasonally adjusted civilian unemployment rate for August at 7.6 percent, down one-tenth of a percentage point over-the-month. And, neighboring California's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was estimated at 9.8 percent, up nine-tenths of a percentage point during the same time period.

NESD labor economists monthly survey shows that seasonally adjusted unemployment estimates throughout Nevada's 17 counties ranges from a low of 2.2 percent in Eureka County — to a high of 11.2 percent in Esmeralda County. During August, unemployment in Las Vegas (Clark County) was estimated at 7.0 percent, down three-tenths of a percentage point over-the-month, and up 1.6 percent when compared to a year ago. Reno's (Washoe County) August jobless rate was estimated at 7.2 percent, up two-tenths of a percentage point during the same 30-day period. In August 1991, Reno's unemployment rate was 4.5 percent.

All but one of Nevada's industries are showing some measure of modest over-the-year job growth. The mining industry remained steady (no gain, no loss) with 13,800 jobs reported during August.

Those industries showing over-the-year job growth include:

- * Service industries (gaming, recreation, and hotels; personal; business; medical and health; legal, engineering, accounting and management)

report gaining 4,300 jobs (See Unemployment, Page 5)
