"COMMENTS AND CONVERSATIONS..."

Come this April 16-17, 1993, thousands of women from across the country will gather in Chicago for, "An Expo For Today's Black Woman" being presented by WVAZ (V-103) Radio and sponsored by Soft Sheen Products and WMAQ-TV Station. This exciting event being held in Chittown for 'today's black woman' will take place at the city's McCormick Place North, located at 23rd Street at South Lake Shore Drive.

This two day gathering of African-American women who are wives, mothers, students and sisters to all; and from all walks of life, whose days are filled with work, school, children, stress, laughter, tears and much more will gather each day from 10:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. and engage in a lively exposition of seminars and demonstrations designed to improve their quality of life.

Created by V103's Advertising and Promotions Director, Merry Green, "An Expo For today's Black Woman," is a two day program of information on careers, education, health care, child care, politics, fashion, beauty, the church, and financial planning. Continuous entertainment from inspirational speakers plus popular recording artists will also be a part of the two day event.

Some of the scheduled highlights of the 2-day exposition include: Senator Carol Mosely Braun (D-Illinois) will officially open the exposition when she hosts a "Women and Politics" breakfast at 8:00 a.m. on Friday, April 16th. Joining Senator Braun will be Representative Maxine Waters of California, Sharon Pratt Kelly, Mayor of Washington, D.C. Mrs. Jesse (Jacqueline) Jackson, Alderman Dorothy Tillman and Toni Preckwinkle and many more.

Anita Hill, Professor of Law at the University of Oklahoma will address exposition participants on the topic of "Sexual Harassment in the Workplace" on Friday, April 16th at 12:00 noon.

On Saturday, April 17th, superstar authors Terry McMillan ("Waiting To Exhale," "Mama," "Disappearing Acts"), Gloria Naylor ("The Women of Brewster Place" "Mama Day," "Bailey's Cafe"), and Maya Angelou ("I Know Why The Caged Bird Sings") will participate in a panel discussion entitled "Best Sellers" which will be moderated by editors from Essence Magazine.

Saturday, April 17th at 3:00 p.m. the pages of Essence Magazine will come to life when editor Mikki Garth Taylor presents, "Dressing for Success The Afrocentric Way!" She will demonstrate how to take garments and accessories from the world's leading designers and give them a 'sistah's' touch, while actress/dancer Carmen DeLavallade will present "Body Games" an exercise program for women over 40.

For the children, Six Flags Great America will present, "Bugs Bunny And Friends," a special kids show at 10:00 a.m., 12:00 noon, 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 17th.

More than 300 businesses, corporations and agencies will have booths and exhibits at "An Expo For Today's Black Woman" where visitors will be able to sample the latest products, receive information on current trends and services, and be entertained, all under one roof.

"HOLLYWOOD HOTLINE..." The recent appearance by actor Art Evans on The Today Show talking about his role as one of Hollywood's leading character actors seemed to have started something relative to his career. He's always been busy playing different roles as a character actor. But here of late, and following his dynamic role in "Trespass" plus his recent appearance on the "Today Show" which aired Wednesday, February 10th, it seems like every producer in Hollywood is calling on Art to play a role in their film productions. Player's Magazine is featuring Art in a photo/story spread in the upcoming issue and guess who he's shown in the key photo of the spread with? None other than President Bill Clinton who at the time the picture was taken, was Governor of the State of Arkansas and had visited the set of "A Soldier's Story" to meet Art, he'll be heading a team of cast members from the motion picture "Trespass" plus other Hollywood friends to play against Radio Station KJLH's All Star Squad for the "10th Annual Black History Celebrity Basketball Game" benefiting the Daisy Child Development Foundation, Friday, February 26th at the Compton Community College gym. He's also called on his buddy and fellow actor Roger E. Mosley from the weekly television series "Hanging With Mr. Cooper" to do the play-by-play announcing of the game, and asking all Tinsel-towners to come out and support this charitable event.

Tickets and additional information can be obtained by calling (310) 537-4007...and that's Hollywood this time!

Until the next time, Lanier.
