If the Sonics can escape the Delta Center with the W, the teams will return to Seattle for Game 5 Saturday at 3:30 p.m. The winner of this series will square off against the winner of the Rockets-Clippers series which is deadlocked at two games a piece.

"Phoenix and Seattle seemed to be the best teams going into the Western Conference playoffs, but now they are struggling," added handicapping wizard Spats. "Houston, at this time, is the team to beat in the West." Spats feels that Seattle's youth is the most talented team but their inexperience could work against them.

Los Angeles guard Mark Jackson canned three consecutive free throws with less than :20 seconds remaining in the contest, to cap off a 7-0 run and help the Los Angeles Clippers force a fifth and decisive game. The Clippers tipped the Rockets Michigan's heart-and-soul of their Fab Five, Chris Webber, has announced that he will go hardship, and enter the NBA Draft this summer.

Webber led the Wolverines to two straight NCAA Championship Game appearances, falling to Duke in 1992, and North Carolina this past April. Michigan had a chance to tie or even win the game with :20 seconds remaining when Webber grabbed the rebound of a missed free throw by Tar Heels' Pat Sullivan. Webber dribbled furious up the court, determined to snatch the game by the throat, and choke victory out of it. Webber proceeded to call a timeout which Michigan didn't have, resulting in a technical foul, and eventually a Carolina victory, 77-71, and the National Title. Webber joins other First Team All-Americans: Bobby Hurley, Calbert Cheaney, Arfernee Hardaway and Jamal Mashburn, in the NBA Draft. Hardaway and Mashburn are both juniors, entering the draft early, while Webber comes in as a sophomore. Webber's aggressive style of play could land him a major role with an up-and-coming team.
