"THE DANCING OF ELEPHANTS"

By James S. Tate, Jr., M.D.,
Chairperson, NAARPR

It is an old African proverb that when the elephants dance, it is the ants that get stepped on. This may be true with the onset of the battle of the Titans, Sheriff John Moran verse Casino owner, Steve Wynn. It seems that in this battle Mr. Wynn is accusing the Metropolitan Police Department and it's leadership (none other than Sheriff Bubba) of being somewhat over zealous in there attempts to 1). Discredit the Mirage and 2). Discredit Mr. Wynn and some of his associates. (Why do we find that totally believable?).

You see, we have too seen what the Metropolitan Police Department, Sheriff Bubba and those two Neo Fascist, who run the Police Protective Association, can do. If you will recall, it was only two weeks after O.C. Smith and his Neo Fascist cohorts at the Police Protective Association issued their bounty statement last May, that yours truly was arrested and railroaded to the slammer for 6 hours. Now, one knows that they would do it to an African male, doctor or not. The question is will they to it to one of the plantation owners themselves. Apparently they are more than willing to do so, since they have now attacked Mr. Wynn.

I also note with some interest that Mr. Wynn has been calling for some civilian oversight of the Metropolitan Police Department. We fully intend to send Mr. Wynn a copy of the petition we circulated, as well as a copy of the model legislation from the national office and to the publicly solicit Mr. Wynn's support. Perhaps if more of the casino owners began to realize what kind of quasi fascist regime who are living under, vis a vis the Metropolitan Police Department, there would be more powerful voices which would enter this fray on the side of civilian control of Metro. It is true that at the present time no one, absolutely no one, has jurisdiction over the Metropolitan Police Department. They cannot be controlled by city government. No one has control over these jack booted demons. This is why they behave so irresponsibly. They know full well that no matter what they do no one will be able to punish them in any meaningful way.

It would seem that this would be an opportune time, at this point in history, to perhaps convene a select commission consisting of some of the casino owners, community representatives, and governmental representatives to sit down and devise a plan and a time table for bringing this most murderous gang of cut throats, i.e. the

HAIL THE RIGHT WING!

By R. K. Brown

One of the most interesting things that American scholars continue to do is study the diabolical behavior of other democratic states. Recently I watched a documentary special on cable, about the political and religious purging of Stalinist Russia.

Americans continually point to horrors like this and Nazi Germany, as the most evil regimes in the history of world politics. While these are truly ruthless manifestations of human hatred I laugh at the way America washes it's hands of it's own evil past.

Scholars point out the political killing of these nation's leaders, not acknowledging the same right wing killing and assassination of these United States. Instead of saying, "hail Hitler," we should say HAIL TO THE RIGHT WING KILLERS OF CONSERVATIVE America!

Why don't American scholars study the political purging and killing which became a cornerstone of the conservative comeback in the 1960's. Anyone can see that the same things that happened in Nazi Germany and in Russia, happened here during the 60's!

America developed political leaders who wanted to move in a totally different direction. During the height of democratic rule, peace was the national anthem. The Kennedy brothas wanted to end the military complex and concentrate on social matters back home. Our concentration on high-tech education made us the leading authority in the world.

Black issues came to the forefront of American politics. Our economy was the FIRST in the world. Everyone on the globe owed us money. Dr. King was a visionary who could move the whole nation with just his inspirational word. Malcolm X instilled new pride and a self help direction into the black community. With these types of liberal visionaries, America was moving in the ABSOLUTE wrong direction for the racist right wing conservatives! A president and his brother who didn't like war?

FEMALE BLACKSPLOITATION

African-American women are definitely on the move these days. Long hailed as the backbone of the African-American community, Black women have certainly earned the respect they deserve.

Statistically, Black women have more middle and top-level management jobs than Black men. Now we know why, at least partially. Black women pay more for the same goods and services than White men, White women or even Black men.

According to author Frances Whittlesey in her book "Why Women Pay More," a Black woman buying a new car will pay an average of $800 more than a White male. Compare that to a White woman who will pay only $150 more for a new car and you get an even clearer picture of the dollar discrepancy. Is there direct linkage between the fact that Black women take home the bacon but pay more for goods and services than any other group?

One theory holds that women of all races are obsessed with their appearance and fashion. Tales of even poor women spending $60 or more a month alone on their fingernails are not unusual. When you look at the sum total, it is apparent that retailers take advantage of women regardless of color because they know they have a captive audience.

I call it a captive audience, but the term most applied to the practice of charging women more for the same goods and services is "Suckerism".

In their defense, many Black women who admit to spending vast sums on their personal appearance and upkeep consider it a necessity for keeping a man. As one sister told me, "My nails, my hair and my clothes are like insurance for keeping my man."

Not all African-American women, though, place such a heavy emphasis on appearance. And, of those who do, some get money from their spouse to pay for those expensive beauty treatments. But, by-and-large, Black women who are primary wage earners in the family are the ones who pay and pay, way beyond any other category of consumer.

It kind of makes you wonder could there be some sort of unspoken cozy relationship between employers and retailers to exploit Black women coming and going—first by employing them in good jobs, and secondly, to charge them more than anyone else for goods and services. Let's hope that's not so.

To know is to grow. Until next week.
