business, then you wouldn't know. The frustration they meet everyday are unbearable. Stop telling white people about how bad blacks are. Instead you should say what you have to say to black people.

If you are really serious then why don't you come to the black community and encourage black people to pool their minds and resources that you are telling whites that blacks are not doing. Either put up or shut up.

To make you out to be the big liar that you are let us name a few cases of real racism.

When the owners of Valley Foods decided to come to this town they were given 3 million dollars of block grant monies. They brought almost three hundred of their employees with them and hired less than ten from the community. Similarly, when Main Street Station Casino opened its doors the owners were given more than 17 million dollars of block grant monies that should have gone to the black business people in West Las Vegas.

When Mr. Steve Wynn decided to go into the hotel business one local bank loaned him all the money he needed.

Now contrast the financial opportunities that were afforded these white business men with what happened to a few of our black business men and women by financial institutions.

The Nucleus Plaza Center is situated on one of the most prime pieces of land in the entire city and yet it has experienced all kinds of difficulties convincing money lending institutions of this fact! Glad to report that Nucleus is beginning to see the light at the end of its tunnel.

And then there is Ray and Ross Transport and Western Coach. Both of them could expand and hire many more people if there were other financial opportunities for them.

Until just recently, the largest food store that blacks owned in West Las Vegas could not propose it's food supplies at a whole sale rate unless they were purchased through a white grocery man. Always remember you, like the rest of us, are about three the race for markets in the former Soviet Union.

That's why my economic program will help the American people turn these changes into real economic progress. I have offered a $20 billion, five-year initiative to invest in workers, communities and companies affected by cuts in military spending. I have formed a commission to recommend real changes in federal policy to help restart our aviation and aerospace industry. And I have provided an enterprise-oriented aid initiative to save the Russian Democracy and spur American economic growth.

Beyond growth, Americans want a return to responsibility in our schools, our communities and our economy. And in that spirit, this Administration is leading the way: by reforming welfare to make it a second chance, not a way of life; by reforming the health care system to provide health security to every American and bring rising costs under control; by making national service opportunities available to students so that they can exchange opportunities for education with community service.

Finally, I am working to give the government back to the American people. At the beginning of my Administration, I announced my decision to cut the White House staff by 25% and eliminate the kinds of perks and privileges which isolate Federal workers from the people

I just want to remind you of an undisputed fact that you are still black and as soon as you have been used up you will be back. Think about this before you make your next speech-they are supposed to serve.

I have cut from the budgets of federal agencies and departments, telling them they must do more with less. I have appointed Vice President Gore to head the National Performance Review, which will oversee our efforts to streamline government, eliminate waste and make our government more accountable to the American people.

I am committed to bringing this Presidency directly to the people through such things as town meetings and electronic mail with the White House. And the Vice President and I will continue to participate in regional events like the Forest Conference, a meeting which sought solutions for the environmental and economic problems of the Pacific Northwest.

Most importantly, I am committed to enacting tough campaign finance and lobbying reform legislation to drive special interest dealing out of politics.

What will come from what we accomplished—more economic growth, comprehensive health and welfare reform, a new system of national service, a government that once again belongs to the people—are new opportunities for achievement, empowerment and progress for Americans who work hard and play by the rules. It means a new direction for us all. It is indeed America's season of renewal.
