REID INTERVIEW

(Continued from Page 4) and when opposed have tried to strangle that country to death financially, as in the case of Spain and Portugal.

REID: Wow. SAVOY: Now, if President Clinton's economic policy proposes further social cuts and additional taxes, as an American taxpayer I'd like to know, why does Israel continue to be the recipient of huge foreign aid while other third world countries continue to be cut, even for the basic necessities such as food and medical supplies.

REID: I was not familiar with the Benjamin Franklin quote. I disagree with it. I think that Jews and African-Americans have a lot in common, as far as the way that they have been treated. So, I disagree with his statement, however, having said that, I also think that we need to take a look at what this new budget program does to the poor and does to Blacks generally. This program has very few social cuts, very, very few. The poor do very well, 70% of Americans will pay less in taxes, ...the poorer you are the better you do under this new deficit reduction program. I do think that though we have to focus attention on the African-American communities in America on economic empowerment, I'm glad, the budget deficit program is good to the poor, but what does it do to empower the poor to be raised up by their bootstraps. For example, small businesses. And I've mentioned a few of the things that I think will
