

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(Continued from Page 26) just fine. Not so, I think one of the worst things blacks have done to each other is neglect their brothers and believe some demagoguery, that the white man says is the truth. When white people speak, meaning white politicians, they are speaking to appease their constituency. But the real story is that big business dictates to politicians that own the money supply, own the markets.

Politicians are CEO's. The constituents are nothing more than recipients of welfare. Welfare that the government issues, such as in the way of Defense contracts, social security, just to name a few.

FDR Administration started a lot of the welfare programs to keep the American people from starving, not to revive the economy. The economy is based on supply and demand. Big businesses produce more than is needed for this country, so they have to find more markets elsewhere. The businesses here can no longer afford to stay in this country because high wages etc. If we, (meaning blacks) are not prepared to move with the flow of the world markets, eventually we will become like Mexico and Haiti. Sincerely, Willie M. Thomas; Dean of Las Vegas City College.
