Jazz at Newport '95 to air on PBS stations nationwide

ROY HARGROVE

NEW YORK — Jazz at Newport '95, an hour of superb music and beautiful scenery taped at the world-renown JVC Jazz Festival at Newport, RI, will air on Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) stations across the nation beginning in the Los Angeles area and continuing on various affiliates through the Winter.

Jazz At Newport '95 airs locally on Friday, October 20, at 10:00 p.m. on KLVX-TV 10.

An annual PBS favorite, Jazz At Newport was taped at Fort Adams State Park August 12-13. This year's film takes viewers on a leisurely drive through the town with stops at the opulent Rosecliff (one of Newport's most renowned mansions), the lighthouse, the harbor and historic Fort Adams State Park.

The 1995 program features performances by Roy Hargrove, Larry Carlton and Lee Ritenour, Thomas Chapin, Dorothy Donegan and The Rite of Strings featuring Stanley Clark, Al Di Meola and Jean-Luc Ponty. Backstage footage and interviews with artists round out the tour of the JVC Jazz Festival - Newport.

"Each year, thousands of music lovers travel to Newport to enjoy a weekend of great jazz," said George Wein, producer of JVC Jazz Festival - Newport. "Fort Adams State Park boasts a beautiful seaside setting that everyone should experience at least once; however, if that's not possible, the televised version is certainly the next best thing."

Introduced in the summer of 1954, the first Newport Jazz Festival (now known as the JVC Jazz Festival - Newport) was held at the historic Newport Casino, home of the International Tennis Hall of Fame. Now, 41 years later, the event, whose mission was "to encourage America's enjoyment of jazz and to sponsor the study of our country's original art form" has set a standard for jazz festivals all over the world. George Wein conceived the event and continues to expand upon his successful ideas year after year.

"Dick Gregory Broadway Bound..."

If the one man show that Dick Gregory's been premiering at Marla Gibbs' Vision Theatre in Tinseltown since September 28th is a sample of what to expect when it hits Broadway — then get ready for a record-breaking run of his thought provoking humor.

Even though his appearance at Marla's theatre came as something of a surprise because the word was somewhat late getting around, causing his early on performance to get off to a slow start with Tinseltowners, his performances were paramount. Like a bottle of rare vintage wine, he's been pleasingly palatable since day one.

Even though he's been away from the performance stage for 22-years, he hasn't lost a thing performance wise! His topics are timely, his timing is perfect, his satire is searing, his barbs are biting, and he reaches everyone. His return to the performance stage could be compared to hitting the lottery and becoming an instant millionaire, or finding that 'pot' of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Listening to Dick Gregory thrill audiences with his brand of humor once again is like seeing the light after coming through a long, dark tunnel, and along the way, losing hope of ever seeing the light again. We would also like to see a lot more of today's young comics taking the time to see and listen to this man of wit and wisdom. One session with "the Greg" would be like completing a four-year course of (See Ebony Etchings, Page 20)
