Big Guns of Comedy In Town for Boxing Weekend

By Nichole Davis

Boxing won't be the only big attraction this weekend. Several Strip hotels will be rolling out the big guns of comedy bringing in big name Black comedians to get a piece of the boxing action.

Comedian Bernie Mac will appear along with musical group Maze featuring Frankie Beverly and female vocalists Brownstone at the Aladdin Theatre for the Performing Arts on Saturday, Nov. 4. Mac took a few minutes earlier this week to sit and talk with the Sentinel-Voice about his upcoming performance.

Talking to us from Chicago, Mac said that "Vegas is one of my favorite cities to come to. There's so much going on, so much excitement. There's so many things you can do."

Besides, said Mac, "I'm an eating man. I love good food. I like the excitement of just going to shows and gambling. Every time I come to Vegas, twice a year, it gives me something to get the kinks out."

Mac won't be the only comedian looking for a way to work out the kinks this weekend. Sinbad, George Wallace, Tommie Davidson, John Henton and Ricky Harris are among those performers appearing this weekend. Sinbad will be performing stand-up at Bally's Nov. 3-4 at 11 p.m. in the Celebrity Room.

Sinbad was most recently seen in his 70's Soul Music Special in August on HBO. The show taped live in St. Martin, San Maarten was part of an agreement the star has with the cable network.

Sinbad, who is perhaps best known for his work on Star Search and A Different World, has also just completed a new film project, First Kid, in which Sinbad stars as a Secret Service agent babysitting the son of the president. The film is due out early 1996.

Also in 1996, look for Sinbad in two more comedy specials also on HBO. While Sinbad's production company, David and Goliath Productions, produced the last special; there is no word on who will produce the remaining two.
