little scared because I was all by myself. This experience has matured me and now that I am a graduate, I feel overwhelmed to be a "part of something that I started out working for: being employed at the college. And now, I have actually accomplished what I set out to do in receiving my degree."

Brandi Brown, the recent graduate said, "I am overwhelmed, and I am experiencing feelings that I can't put into words right now. I work for the Marriott, serving my peers, which has been challenging to me but it has matured me and made me a stronger person, a patient person, and a dedicated person to my job. I do plan on continuing to pursue my master's degree and be employed in some type of social work."
