

Martin Luther King Jr.
1929-1968

MLK's dream from a photographer's perspective

Photos by John Broussard

The life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has left a lasting impression on the world, on this nation, and on each of us individually. While reading about his life and listening to his powerful, impassioned speeches, I focused on values and attributes that were embodied in his philosophies. Let us not forget our history, including the journey to the shores of America. Let us not forget the fabric, which created the foundation of our great nation. Let us not forget that all men are created equal and that knowledge is power. More importantly, let us not forget to love one another. The challenge: Never lose hope — keep the dream alive.

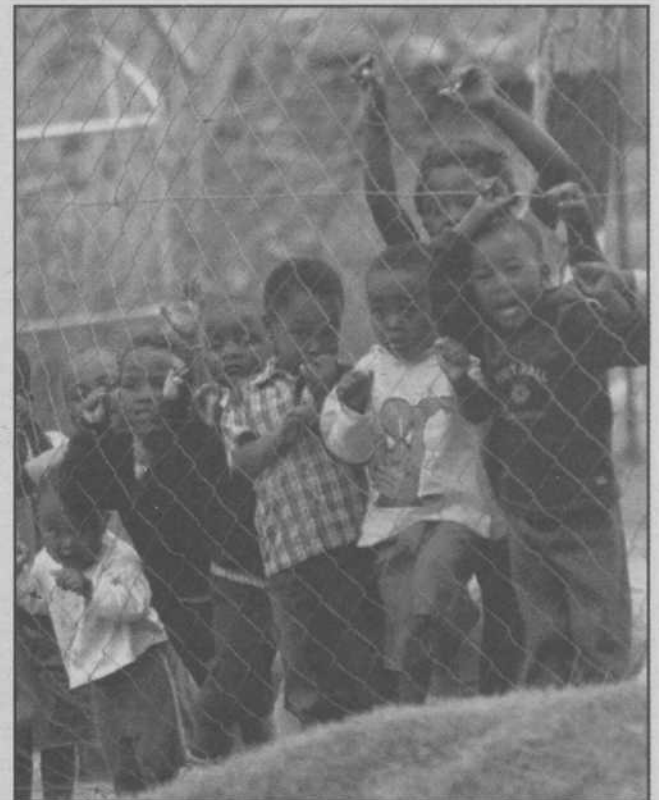

SHACKLED

FABRIC OF AMERICA

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

HOPE

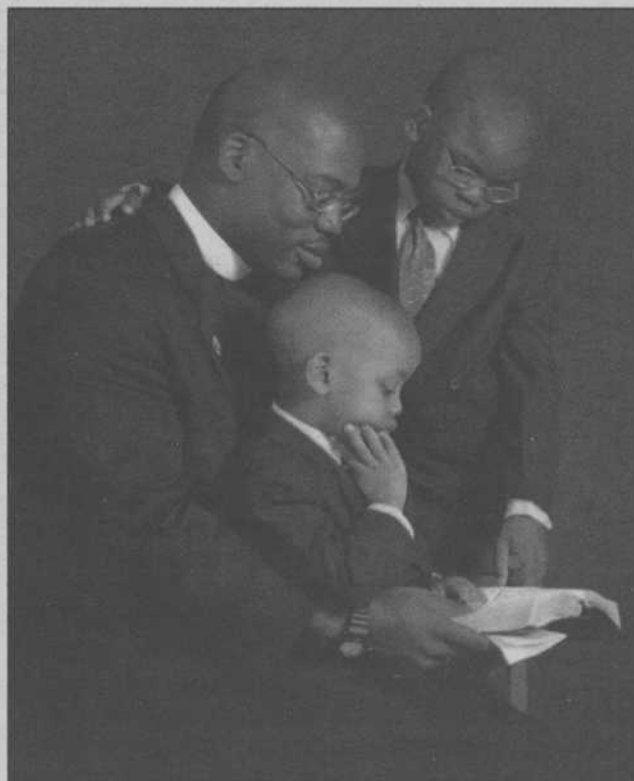

ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL

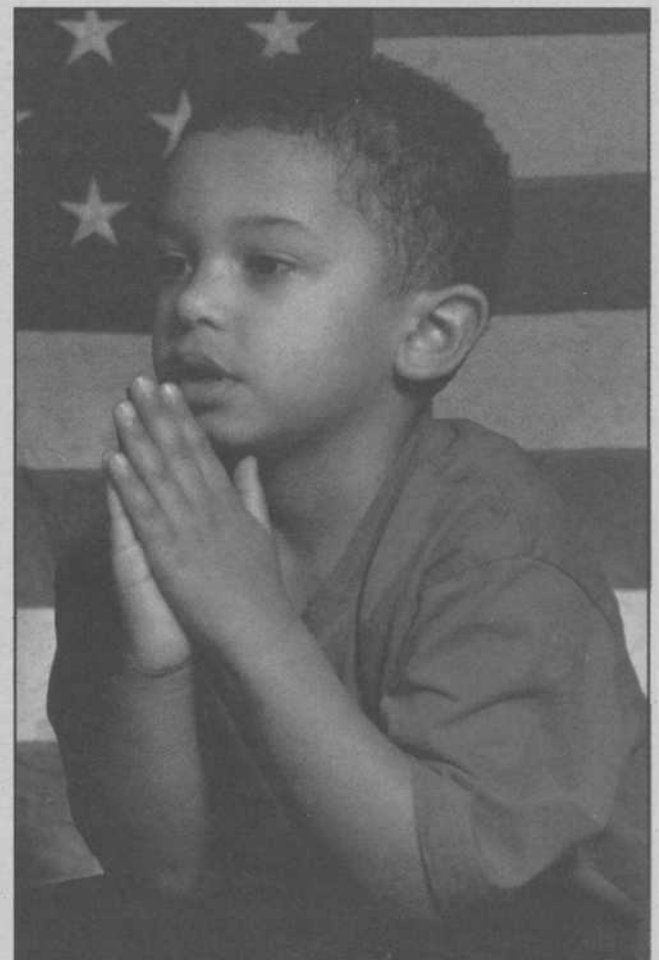

TOMORROW'S PROMISE OF LOVE

DEMOCRACY

THE MAKING OF MAN

GOD BLESS AMERICA