

— Scenes from the Emerald Ball —

HAVING A BALL — (Adjacent) E. Lavonne Lewis, Far Western Regional director of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., congratulates Regina Adams during the Theta Theta Omega Chapter of AKA's 2008 Emerald Ball. Also recognized during the March 29 event at the Monte Carlo Hotel and Casino was Keith Calhoun (far right, holding an award), Las Vegas Sentinel-Voice Publisher Ramon Savoy (below right) with Theta Theta Omega president Barbara J. McCants-Hill, and (bottom center) Jennifer Coleman. (Below middle) Chairwoman Keysa Rogers shares a moment with her in-laws, the Rev. James Rogers Sr., and Lady Rogers; Keysa was recognized for her leadership in putting together the fifth annual scholarship fundraiser. Gwendolyn Bates-Bartlett (with crown) was named the Emerald Ball queen during the celebration.

Alexis Herman set to keynote SNCCW fundraiser luncheon

Special to Sentinel-Voice

The Southern Nevada Coalition of Concerned Women will host its 11th Annual Charity Luncheon on Saturday, May 3, at the Four Seasons, 3960 Las Vegas Blvd. So. Doors open at 11 a.m.

Past luncheons have featured dynamic speakers such as Rep. Maxine Waters, D-Calif., Rep. Sheila Jackson Lee, D-Texas, journalist and talk show host Tony Brown and Floyd H. Flake, Nevada State Supreme Court Justice Michael Douglas and pastor of the Greater Allen Cathedral A.M.E. Church and president of Wilberforce University.

This year's speaker is equally accomplished. Alexis Herman is the former U.S. Secretary of Labor, and the first African-American to hold the position. She served under President Bill Clinton. Herman cur-

(See Herman, Page 3)

ALEXIS HERMAN

POWER 2 CHANGE

GAS IS TOO HIGH!

Oil companies reap record profits of more than $100 billion while we pay the price. We have the power to change direction!

All elected officials and all candidates up and down the ballot including the White House need to know how you feel. Let them know!

Log on:

<http://action.sierraclub.org/power2changenv>
For volunteer opportunities or for more information, call (702) 732-7750