

A (Jazz, R&B) Festival of Fun

Chante Moore sings a fluid, melodic ballad.

Eddie Baccus Jr. wows an appreciative crowd at the 16th Annual City of Lights Jazz & R&B Festival last weekend.

Niki Harris gets the crowd motivated, merry and moving with a rousin song.

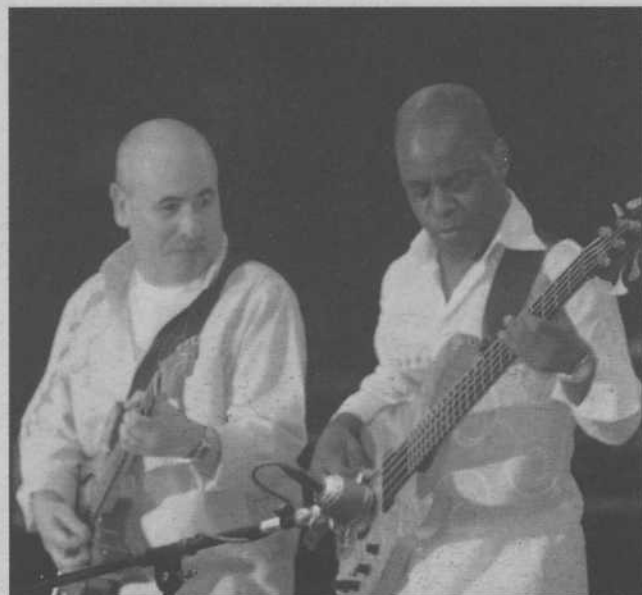

Norman Brown, left on guitar, and Paul Taylor rock the house with soul rhythms.

Sentinel-Voice photos by Marty Frierson

ABOVE PHOTOS — The weather was great for the 16th Annual Las Vegas City of Lights Jazz & R&B Festival on Saturday and Sunday, at Hills Park located in Summerlin. Jazz artist and R & B legends played to the relaxed crowd of music lovers. Hundreds of music fans of all ages attended the two-day event.

Sentinel-Voice photos by Ramon Savoy

BOTTOM PHOTOS — The Jazz in the Park concert series kicked off its 20th year with Spyro Gyra on Saturday at the Clark County Amphitheater. The band was treated to a full house of head bopping and body shaking fans who were not disappointed to the 90 minute set. Clark County Parks and Recreation produces the free series.

Julio Fernandez and Scott Ambush strum out nice tunes.

Jay Berkenstein displays a jazzy-style showmanship.

Bonny B plays to the crowd and gets the response he wants.