

Salute to President Obama ♦ Inaugurated Jan. 20, 2009

The best wishes, prayers and greetings that follow represent only a small part of the large numbers of Nevadans who look forward to the realization of positive change for America, as one nation, with hope, united through greater vision and leadership.

Barack Obama takes the oath of office from Chief Justice John Roberts as Michelle Obama stands by her husband's side.

Congratulations, President Obama.

I pledge to join you and my fellow Americans in meeting the demands of this New Age!

From Patricia Cunningham... on this historical day, as you step into history as the nation's first Black President, please know that my children — Ché, Kwasi, and Anika Jones, and my 6-year-old granddaughter Amirah Jones —
have supported you from day one. Thank you,
President Barack Obama, for giving them hope.

ROBERT, JOYCE and MICHAEL THOMAS
Today we celebrate the dream. Tomorrow
we celebrate the reality. Congratulations, President Obama and the First Family!

DAVE & PEGGY ANSON
In 2008, we promised to love, honor, and "Obama" until death do us part. We have the audacity to hope that President Obama is successful in all his endeavors.
Simply a veteran, Dave Anson
